Churchill Urges Italy to Ask Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, viewing the tide of war as indisputably having turned to the United Nations, in effect this afternoon invited the Italian people to throw out the Nazis and Fascists and make a separate peace.

Taking over a Presidential press conference at the White House at which he also spoke of good conclusions having been reached on prosecuting the war in the Pacific with the greatest vigor, he had this to say of the war-weary Italians:

"They would be very well advised to get rid of their leaders and throw themselves on the justice of those they have so greatly offended."

All we can do, Mr. Churchill added, is apply the physical stimuli—and he intimated he meant continued bombings.

No Wage Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The War Labor Board refused today to grant a basic wage increase to the 450,000 soft coal miners in the United States, but recommended some other concessions and tossed the portal-to-portal pay issue back into collective bargaining with the understanding it would approve any reasonable sum agreed upon.

More Nazis In Denmark

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The German high command, apparently fearing the Allies may strike northern Germany or Denmark as the shortest route to Berlin, has shifted unusually strong troop reinforcements to Danish Jutland, reliable reports from Denmark said today.

During the past month, the German garrisons there have been increased from 60,000 to 200,000 men, Danish sources reported.

Boys Steal Tires

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police, working in co-operation with the city force, said today they believed a tire-stealing ring had been smashed here with the arrest of four youths ranging from 15 to 18 years of age who have been charged with a total of 15 offences.

Beef Prices Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Wholesale price ceilings on beef carcasses, sides and quarters will advance 25 cents a hundredweight May 27, foods administration officials of the Prices Board said today, but they added the increase will affect consumer prices "only slightly."

Mutiny by Nazis

LONDON (CP)—The Belgian news agency tonight reported three instances of mutiny among German forces in Belgium.

At Lokeren in east Flanders, soldiers who refused to leave for the Russian front were reported fettered and taken to the Ghent prison; while machine guns were set up in the streets.

The other incidents were at Loochristy and Vynckt. There was an exchange of shots at Vynckt.

Dempsey Divorce Trial

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—The trial of Jack Dempsey's divorce suit against his wife, Hannah Williams, the former "cheerful little earful" of musical comedy, began in the state supreme court today with several witnesses testifying she was friendly with former lightweight champion Lew Jenkins and Benny Woodall, one-time Jenkins trainer.

Russia Got Most

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, accounting for $11,102,472,000 in U.S. lend-lease aid in a little more than two years, disclosed today that more actual fighting equipment had been sent to Russia than any other country.

Through March 31, the Soviet Union received $1,041,000,000 in planes, tanks, motor vehicles, ammunition, ordnance and watercraft to help check the Nazi hordes. Mr. Roosevelt said in a letter to Congress.

Air Attack On Attu Costly to Japanese

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy department reported today that 7-out of 16 Japanese twin-engine bombers which had ventured into the Attu battle area Sunday were "probably destroyed," in addition to five originally reported as "definitely destroyed."

Amplifying Monday's report on the air fight which occurred over the western Aleutian Island when six U.S. army fighters intercepted the bomber formation, the navy communique said the remaining four enemy bombers which were apparently unharmed fled to the west without doing any damage to American ships or positions. Prior to issuance of the communique, which covered only operations on Attu through Sunday, Navy Secretary Frank Knox reported the battle on the island was continuing with the Japanese "corralled" on the peninsula which juts out along the island's northeastern rim.

Beveridge Says Marsh Plan Best for Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Sir William Beveridge, author of the famous British social security plan, told a joint meeting of Senate and House of Commons committee members today that he had "very great hopes" of Canada adopting the Marsh social security proposals for the Dominion, "or something even better."

The British economist praised the report prepared by Dr. Leonard Marsh of Ottawa. While it varied from his own report, the differences appeared due to conditions which had to be met in Canada and which differed from those of the United Kingdom, he said.

He noted that the flat contribution to social security services, suggested for himself for Britain, might not be suitable to Canada in light of the variety of conditions and types of employment in the Dominion.

BETWEEN TWO SYSTEMS

Sir William said he believed that after the war, in the period when he hopes his own recommendations will be put into effect, Britain would have adopted a system somewhere between the state enterprise of Russia and the private enterprise of the United States.

He expected Canada, too, would have some type of mid-way system, probably nearer to the British system than the United States would be.

Sir William said he felt idleness is the fiercest of the "dragons" to be fought by social security measures. He did not think private industry in itself would be sufficient to provide full employment, and that state enterprise would be required in some measure.

He expressed hope that Canada would adopt a system of children's allowances. Unless there was an average of three children to a family, the British race would decline and die, he said.

Sir William said he considers the social insurance program which he proposed to be part of a comprehensive program looking to "a new Britain."

enemy bombers which raided U.S. forces in the Attu area Saturday and the 16 which participated in a raid Sunday, Knox said "we don't know where the planes came from."

"A suspicion is that they came from the Kuriles," he added. The Kuriles chain, running roughly north and south, has its northern anchor about 630 miles from Attu.

EDMONTON (CP)—Four Alberta cabinet ministers and Rev. Peter Dawson, Speaker of the Legislature, left today for Vancouver to attend the funeral tomorrow of Premier William Aberhart, who died in a hospital three Sunday morning. (See story Page 10).

The ministers are: Hon. Solon E. Low, Provincial Treasurer; Hon. Lucien Maynard, Minister of Municipal Affairs; Hon. E. Tanner, Minister of Lands and Mines; and Hon. W. W. Cross, M.D., Minister of Health.

They will join Hon. E. C. Manning, Provincial Secretary, and Hon. W. A. Fallon, Minister of Public Works, who arrived at the coast city Sunday.

Among others who went to Vancouver today were Charles Pearce, secretary-treasurer of the Prophetic Bible Institute; Mrs. Muriel Jury, president of the Provincial Women's Auxiliary; and Orvis A. Kennedy, former M.P. for Edmonton East.

Edsel Ford Sick

DETROIT (AP)—Edsel Ford, 49-year-old president of the Ford Motor Company, was reported today in a critical condition.

Ford, the only son of Henry Ford, founder of the vast industrial empire, is suffering from undulant fever at his home on Lake St. Clair. He has been chief executive of the company for 24 years.

Undulant fever, a long-persisting and painful disease, characterized by an undulating or remittent fever, is contracted from animals and especially transmitted through milk.

Gain Against U-boats

WASHINGTON (AP)—May thus far has been a "very encouraging" month in anti-submarine warfare, Navy Secretary Frank Knox reported today.

He gave no figures and cautioned against drawing any conclusions for the future, explaining to a press conference that the loss rate in shipping varies from one period to another.

Significant Lull On Russian Front; Air Forces Active

By EDDIE GILMORE.
MOSCOW (AP)—Although sporadic artillery fire and scouting were reported along some sectors of the Russian front today, the significant lull which has prevailed generally remained unbroken and the air war continued to be the battle of the moment.

Both the German and Soviet ground and air forces were hacking away at the transport and communication facilities, but it was obvious the opposing armies were getting large quantities of supplies through to strategic sectors in preparation for the summer campaign.

The Red Army held stubbornly to newly-won lines west of the Donets River near Lisichansk and northeast of Novorossisk in the Kuban region, but there have been no major changes on the long front in days.

(Sharp artillery action occurred Monday night along the south-central front from Sevsk, northwest of Kharkov, down the Donets River to the lower front northwest of Novorossisk, said the midday communique as broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor in London.)

BAG 23 NAZI PLANES

Air battles south of Rostov and on the Arctic front were described in the midday communique. Thirteen Nazi bombers were downed on the Rostov front against a loss of three Russian planes, while artillery fire downed 10 and drove off 28 German craft in a raid on the Rybachy Peninsula area in the Far North near Petsamo, it said.

Canadian Sailors Win Decorations

OTTAWA (CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald today announced that 11 operational awards ranging from the O.B.E. to mention in dispatches—have been approved for Canadian navy men who took part in salvaging of the steamship Matthew Luckenbach by the destroyer Columbia and in the probable damaging of a submarine by H.M.C.S. Georgian.

Lt. Cmdr. George Hay Stephen, D.S.C., commander of the Columbia, whose wife lives in Halifax, is made an additional officer of the military division of the Order of the British Empire for his "exceptional service" in the Matthew Luckenbach salvage job.

Engineer Lieut. John Alfred Savory, whose father lives at Hamilton, Ont., took charge of the engine room during the salvage operations and becomes a member of the military division of the Order of the British Empire.

Mentioned in dispatches is AB Michael Frederick Woodliffe, whose next of kin is Mrs. Ada Woodliffe of Vancouver, formerly of Saskatoon.

Army Bomber Rams Chicago Gas Tank

A four-motored army Liberator, flying low and blind through unfavorable weather, plunged into a 150-foot illuminating gas tank, two miles from Chicago's municipal airport, turning plane and tank, above, into a seething mass of flames. One charred body and a flaming parachute fell outside the tank, but the remaining members of the 12-man crew burned to death at the bottom of the tank as 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas went up with a roar.

160,000 Homeless As Floods Sweep Midwest States

CHICAGO (AP)—The turbulent Mississippi and the smaller Illinois River today threatened further disaster to an already flood-stricken section of Illinois and Missouri.

Damage to crops, property and livestock, already in the millions of dollars, mounted as the waters from the two rivers laid waste new areas of rich farm lands, seriously interfered with industry and transportation and drove hundreds from their homes. The number of persons homeless in the flood zone was estimated by the Red Cross at about 160,000, while the death toll stood at 17.

Beardstown, Ill., remained one of the several river towns described as critical. With an estimated 4,500 of the Illinois River town's 6,500 already removed, there was likelihood the town would be completely abandoned should the river continue to rise.

Flood damage to crops in some of the states was reported by agricultural officials. In Illinois Dean H. P. Rusk of the University of Illinois said 1,257,698 acres of crop land had been inundated and the heaviest loss was in corn—181,500 acres which could have produced about 10,000,000 bushels.

Wheat losses were estimated at 136,910 acres and oats, 68,064 acres.

Governor Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma estimated damage at "at least $40,000,000 to crops, highways, soil, homes and industry."

First TCA Planes Leave Here June 7

Trans-Canada Air Lines will begin operating from Victoria June 7, according to an announcement made today by Postmaster George Gardiner.

The plane which will inaugurate the service will leave the Patricia Bay airfield at 1:30 a.m. June 7 and the second plane will leave at 4:15 p.m.

TCA will operate two trips each day out of Patricia Bay to Halifax, N.S.

TCA planes will carry mail and through passengers. They will not handle local travel between here and Vancouver. That will be taken care of by Canadian Pacific Airways, which operates a seaplane.

TCA planes will be the regular mainliners, Lockheed Lodestars, which carry 14 passengers. The morning plane, leaving here at 1:30, will take off from the Vancouver airport at 6 and proceed to Ottawa, Montreal and Halifax.

The afternoon plane leaving here at 4:15 will call at Vancouver and take-off at 5. With the inauguration of this service the long flight by Victoria to make this city the western terminus of TCA will have ended. Victoria will now have a place on the aerial maps which lately have gained widespread circulation.

Nazis Change Song Plug

LONDON (CP)—A sign of the times: Radio listeners report German broadcasts are plugging the last war song, "The Watch On the Rhine." Until recently the favorite was "We Sail Against England."

49,000 Workers In Akron Rubber Plants on Strike

AKRON, O. (AP)—Three major rubber companies reported all production ceased today as the number of C.I.O. employees idle in a protest against a War Labor Board wage decision rose to 49,000, despite a war department demand for resumption of work.

Several hundred pickets forming a shoulder-to-shoulder barricade at three gates of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.'s No. 1 plant turned back workers employed on the first day shift.

Crowds started gathering in front of the plant on Akron's east side more than an hour before the usual time for change of shifts. Some men were ejected forcibly as others pushed them through the picket line, but there was no violence.

Only plant guards and supervisory employees were permitted to enter, and three hours after the picket line had formed, the crowds thinned out.

A Goodyear spokesman said 18,000 C.I.O. United Rubber Workers were idle at all its plants, except Goodyear Aircraft Corporation, a subsidiary not affected by the work stoppage. About 14,000 remained idle for the fourth day at the B. F. Goodrich Co. and 17,000 at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co.

The three concerns normally are engaged in production of gas masks, barrage balloons, life belts, airplane de-icers, tank treads, anti-aircraft guns, machine gun clips, civilian and combat tires and other war materials.

Idleness became the greatest in the history of Akron's rubber industry a few hours after James P. Mitchell, industrial personnel director of the army service forces, had appealed for resumption of production.

Italy Lacks Arms Says Crown Prince

NEW YORK (AP)—The BBC, in a broadcast recorded in New York by CBS, said today that Crown Prince Umberto of Italy, in a special order of the day, has warned Italians they are short of arms and called on his troops to throw into the struggle all their "spiritual and physical strength."

Umberto said "Italy hadn't been able to make as many arms as other countries because she hadn't got enough raw materials," the broadcast continued.

BBC added that "the Italian official gazette published a decree placing all war workers in Sicily and Sardinia under military discipline. Premier Mussolini himself called a meeting of Fascist Party chiefs of the Rome district Monday and gave them new orders."

Canadians Score

LONDON (CP)—The Press Association reported tonight that Canadian gunners of a 3.7-battery destroyed one of three Focke-Wulf 190 fighter-bombers brought down over Britain Monday night by anti-aircraft fire.

Every Citizen Of Ruhr Suffers Loss in Attack

By E. C. DANIEL

LONDON (AP)—The deterioration of the Axis air power and civilian defences under the pressure of Allied air might, combined with high expectations for the outcome of the Churchill-Roosevelt conferences in Washington to brighten the summer war picture today for the United Nations.

The unremitting air raids on Sardinia, which the north African air forces again pursued Monday, were reported by the Rome radio to have caused "city districts proper" of the island's capital of Cagliari to be abandoned.

From many towns in Italy's "toe" and the Mediterranean islands refugees were reported streaming north to escape Allied bombardment, a dispatch from Zurich to Reuters news agency said. Rome is receiving thousands, it added.

Although the German radio reported Monday that Nazi troops had been sent to reinforce the defences of Sardinia, Allied pilots said Axis air squadrons had vanished from the Italian outpost islands Sunday.

In Germany, the Nazi Party newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, declared there was not one person in the heavily-raided Ruhr cities who had not suffered personal property or family loss as the result of air attacks.

Dortmund Raid Sequel to Essen

Air observers in London, assessing the result of the heaviest air raid of all time on Dortmund Sunday night, suggested the R.A.F. strategy was designed to pile up cumulative ill effects of the bombing on the strategic Ruhr area.

Having wrecked Essen's war plants—including the sprawling Krupp works—the R.A.F. was reported by air correspondents to have turned heavy attention to Dortmund because it had absorbed much of Essen's former production load.

The raid, which for the first time was said to have beaten down the powerful Ruhr defences, also was aimed at one of the principal cities in the path of one of the floods created the week before by cracking two of Germany's great water reservoirs, the Eder and Mohne.

One mid-afternoon report today from the Morocco radio said fires were still raging in Dortmund, and were out of control due to a shortage of water caused by the dam burstings.

The London Daily Mail said there "is good reason to believe the fire-fighting organization of Dortmund had depended for its water largely on the breached dams."

Other observers speculated that thousands of the Ruhr's civilian defenders were engaged in flood-relief work when the bombers struck again. Some pilots reported seeing wet patches in Dortmund.

First Bombs Fell Before Nazi Alert

London papers reported from the continent that the first bombs fell on Dortmund before an alert was sounded. Some air correspondents in London said the raiders employed deceptive tactics of dispersing widely, and then reforming to pounce on Dortmund. Thus they caught the defenders unaware.

This raid was regarded in London as a direct response to Prime Minister Churchill's suggestion of an experiment to bomb the Axis out of the war. The Dortmund raid thus may be expected to be a forerunner of many more of equal destructiveness.

Meanwhile, there was an air of keen anticipation in London over the further outcome of the Washington talks. Reports from Washington produced headlines variously heralding heavy attacks on Europe, a possible meeting of Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill; an offensive against Japan by the end of the year, and a demand for Italy's surrender.

Continuous Attack

300 Allied Planes Pound At Sardinia

By DANIEL DE LUCE
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP) — The Allies bludgeoned the Italian island of Sardinia with their big stick—their air power—Monday, sending more than 300 planes to attack nine important defence targets on that stepping stone to Italy.

Bomb-pitted Pantelleria, the fortified island 45 miles off Tunisia's Cap Eon which was under almost continuous attack much of Sunday and Sunday night, was raided again Monday by fighter-bombers in the steady air offensive against the Axis' southern front.

Twelve enemy aircraft were destroyed in combat during these operations of the last 24 hours, and an unestimated number of others were wrecked on the ground.

This brought the number of destroyed Axis aircraft in the last six days to at least 329 as a result of operations by the northwest African, Cairo and Malta air forces.

Waves of U.S. bombers and fighters roared over Sardinia, where German troops were announced Monday by Berlin to have landed. The planes dealt their heaviest blows to this vital Axis base west of the Italian mainland.

SHIPPING SUFFERS

Docks, shipping and airfields suffered heavily. One supply ship exploded, four small vessels were sunk and seven others damaged by the cascade of bomb hits.

Three planes were lost during the Sardinia sweeps.

The present Allied air offensive, unlike the German air force's attempts to neutralize the British fortress island of Malta last year when Marshal Rommel was pressing toward the Nile, maintained its full striking power with negligible cost, taking full advantage of the heavy bombers' ability to carry out high-level precision bombing while defending themselves.

Fires visible for 50 miles blazed from Terranova harbor on the northeast coast of Sardinia when the four-engined bombers hit dock installations, warehouses and an ammunition dump. One supply ship was blown up there, another burst into flames, and a third was badly smashed.

HIT BRIDGE, PIER, MOLE

Roaring over La Maddalena, Sardinia's naval base in the north, the bombers caused severe damage to the causeway and a swinging bridge, hit an oil pier and mole and splintered a number of seaplanes at the nearby island of Capraia.

A large formation of medium bombers raided the Olbia-Vena-flora airfield in northern Sardinia, beating off eight enemy fighters with the help of escorts.
Four of these enemy interceptors were shot down as bombs blanketed the field, destroying or damaging a number of scattered aircraft and setting buildings afire.

Carloforte harbor, on the southwest tip; Arbatax on the east coast, Iglesias on the west coast, and Alghero airfield in the north also came under the bomb and machine-gun blanket.

LONDON (CP) — A strong force of Allied aircraft headed eastward across the Channel this morning, resuming by daylight the Allied offensive which reached its peak Sunday night in a record-breaking R.A.F. assault on Dortmund.

The course followed by the daylight raiders indicated they would hit the French coast somewhere between Dieppe and Boulogne.

R.A.F. fighters were over northern France on small-scale intruder patrols Monday night, but the heavy bombers were given a rest after their 2,000-ton attack on Dortmund.

Berlin claimed today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that Nazi guns brought down seven multi-engi-ned British bombers and damaged another during an R.A.F. attack Monday on a German convoy off the Netherlands coast.

BAG NAZI RAIDER

No enemy activity was reported over Britain Monday night, but it was authoritatively learned R.A.F. fighters shot down an enemy plane during an attack on a town in the south of England this afternoon.

About 25 German planes struck at the town in the raid which flattened workers' homes and buried an undetermined number in the ruins. It was one of the biggest daylight forces the Nazis had used in some time.

Some of the raiders swung over a neighboring town and turned their cannon on large buildings.

The Netherlands coast convoy attack Monday was carried out in daylight by torpedo-carrying R.A.F. Beaufighters which struck at six German merchantmen and 12 escort vessels.

The Air Ministry news service said it was believed one merchant ship was sunk and several escorts were damaged. Poor visibility prevented accurate observation of the results.

SINK THREE M.T. BOATS

In another action off the Isle of Wight Monday Albacore fighter-bombers of the fleet air arm sank at least three German motor torpedo boats. The five others in the flotilla of eight craft were damaged, some of them possibly sunk.

The great raid Sunday night on Dortmund brought the total weight of bombs dropped on Germany by the Bomber Command since the start of the war to 100, 000 tons, Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris, commander of the Bomber Command, disclosed.
Dortmund was laid waste by 2,000 tons of bombs in the concentrated hour of attack, the heaviest assault ever made on a city.

The number of planes engaged in the raid, spewing out bombs at the rate of 35 tons a minute, was not disclosed, but the Air Ministry described it as of "very great strength"—a rare superlative. Thirty-eight bombers did not return, four of them from the Canadian bomber group, which played a large part in the attack.

It was possible the number of planes was smaller than the 1,000-bomber forces used against Cologne and other cities a year ago. The carrying capacity of bombers has been increased steadily.

5 TIMES AS GREAT

The total weight of more than 2,000 tons was almost five times greater than the amount dropped by the German air force in its biggest raid on London, April 16, 1941. The Germans used 250 tons in their raid on Coventry, Nov. 14, 1940, when 300 persons were killed and hundreds injured.

The irresistible fire and destruction on Dortmund was delivered at the ratio of more than eight pounds for every one of the 300,000 residents of the iron, steel, coal and transportation centre.

CBS correspondent Howard K.
Smith said in a broadcast from Berne, Switzerland, that the raid left an estimated 37,000 persons homeless in Dortmund. He said the German civilian defence and fire-fighting forces were caught "completely off guard."

When the last planes reached Dortmund, smoke was billowing up as high as 15,000 feet and one pilot said: "The flak had become so moderate it didn't worry us."
The taming of the guns was accomplished in spite of the fact the Nazis keep an estimated 750, 000 men employed on the air-raid defences of western Germany.

REPLY TO GOERING

Sir Arthur Harris in a message to all crews said:
"In 1939 Goering promised that not a single enemy bomb would reach the Ruhr. Congratulations on having delivered the first 100,000 tons of bombs on Germany to refute him.

Friends Congratulate C.P.R. Head

D. C. Coleman's First Visit As President

It was in the nature of a homecoming for D'Alton Corry Coleman, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when he stepped off Ss. Princess Victoria Sunday afternoon to take up residence at the Empress Hotel with W. A. Mather, vice-president of western lines, and three directors of the company from Montreal.

The directors accompanying
Mr. Coleman on his first tour of the west since he assumed the presidency and chairmanship are Hon. Charles A. Dunning, P.C., president of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Ltd.; Morris W. Wilson, president of the Royal Bank of Canada; and L. J. Belnap, president of the Consolidated Paper Co.

His first visit to Victoria as chairman and president, it is also Mr. Coleman's first return to the city since Christmas, 1941, which he spent at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Coleman and his party leave at midnight today for Vancouver, continuing their tour of British Columbia and the west.

VERY POPULAR HERE

The great popularity of Mr.
Coleman with westerners was demonstrated on his arrival Sunday afternoon.

For many years Mr. Coleman served the company in western Canada, having started his career towards the top of the ladder as superintendent at Nelson, B.C.

He was apparently delighted with the warmth of the reception accorded him by friends and admirers who waited at the Empress to personally congratulate him on his assumption to the chairmanship and presidency of the world's greatest transportation system.

Although he was tired, and said so on arrival, Mr. Coleman chatted amiably and shook hands with the cluster of people assembled in the lobby and it was some time before he was able to excuse himself and retire to his suite.

John Cochrane of the Men's Canadian Club, was there with an invitation to Mr. Coleman to address the club here. The C.P.R. executive regretted he would be unable to accept. He is adhering to a decision reached at the commencement of the tour not to address any public gatherings.

W. Hamilton Harmon, manager of the Bank of Montreal branch and vice-president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, also greeted the distinguished visitor.

Capt. R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service of the C.P.R., accompanied Mr. Coleman and his party on the trip across the gulf from Vancouver.

Canadian Pacific Railway, busily engaged in the war effort at the moment, is watching travel developments of the future. Mr.
Coleman stated. The company is surveying possible development of its holdings in British Columbia.

TOURIST FLOW TO RETURN

Flow of tourist travel, temporarily halted by the war, will be revived in greater volume than ever when peace comes, and, in Mr. Coleman's opinion, this favored island will be in a fortunate position to profit by it.

The C.P.R. has a large investment in Victoria and is fully conscious of the tremendous attractions of Victoria as a tourist centre.

When war restrictions limiting travel are removed, he believes, Americans will flock to Canada in greater numbers than ever before, and the opening of the Alaska Highway, as a peacetime route, will be an added magnet to the scenic resources of the country.

Competition of networks of trans-ocean airlines which are looked for after the termination of the world struggle, Mr. Coleman believes, will not greatly affect travel by steamship, although the luxury liners people have become used to, will doubtless be a thing of the past.

The answer, he thinks, will be a fast ship of large freight and refrigerator space with medium accommodation for travelers who are not in a hurry to get places.

Asked what effect the merger of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph would have in Canada,
Mr. Coleman indicated it was unlikely there would be any immediate merger of Canadian-Pacific and Canadian National Telegraphs.

Discussing replacement of Empress liners lost as the result of enemy action, Mr. Coleman said the matter was under consideration but no definite plans could be made "until we are in a position to ascertain the full effect of air competition."

"Naturally, before we can make any definite plans we must know the extent to which the free exchange of products between this continent and Asia will be permitted," he said.

FUTURE OF OCEAN TRAFFIC

Expressing confidence in the future of ocean traffic, Mr. Coleman spoke of the possible extension of the company's steamship service to India.

"We have from time to time in the past considered extension of our trans-Pacific service to Singapore and India, but found major obstacles in the way," he said. "It is possible that, in the final peace terms, some of the difficulties will be ironed out, but on that point prediction would be dangerous."

Questioned regarding the resumption of the Canadian-Australian service between Sydney, Auckland and Victoria, Mr. Coleman said it was impossible for him to say whether the Australian, New Zealand and Canadian governments had discussed its re-establishment.

"My information is that the Australians are anxious to preserve this link in the all-British route, and I am sure Canadians would not like to see it abandoned," said Mr. Coleman.

NORTHWARD DEVELOPMENT

Canada will develop northward,
Mr. Coleman believes.

"But until the war is over," he said, "the shortage of materials and labor will be so acute that only such extensions will be undertaken as are essential to the prosecution of our war effort."

On his way east, Mr. Coleman and party will travel over the Kettle Valley line, will inspect the plant of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Ltd.
at Trail; proceeding thence to Calgary and Edmonton, at which point the president will see something of the tremendous development incident to the construction of the Alaska Highway. He will go over the Northern Alberta line, which is jointly owned by the C.P.R. and C.N.R.; will visit Dawson Creek and also Waterways.

It is possible that he may fly over the northern territory linked by Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

The C.P.R. is pursuing a policy of reducing indebtedness, stated
Mr. Coleman, in answer to a question on company earnings and redistribution of dividends. "When the results of 1943 operations are known," he said, "we shall once again consider the position of holders of our ordinary stock who have received no dividends since 1932."

IMMIGRATION

The C.P.R. president said his company is and always would be interested in postwar immigration schemes providing they were intelligently directed.

He wished to make it quite clear, however, that the C.P.R. no longer has any revenue from irrigated or non-irrigated lands and townships with which to finance immigration.

Mr. Coleman holds very definite opinions as to the course which development of air lines in Canada and to overseas countries should take.

"But," he said, "until the government policy is more clearly defined it would be improper for me to give publicity to my ideas."

The C.P.R. president is accompanied by three directors of the company, Hon. Charles A. Dunning, P.C., formerly federal Minister of Finance and now president of the Ogilvie Flour Mills

MAKES FOR FRIENDLINESS

I walked down town today behind an American officer (naval) and his wife. Each time a Canadian sailor boy passed him he would be saluted and very smartly the American would return same with a very nice "Thank you." After awhile the American officer turned to his wife and said "The Canadian navy certainly should be proud to have such smart, trim men, and so eager to greet us Americans with a smart salute and a smile, makes my heart feel good to visit Victoria." Indeed, he is right, if you could have seen each sailor boy and non-commissioned officer smartly salute the American naval officer it would, indeed, do your heart good.

Munitions Vote Foreshadows Canada Army Action

Australian Output

NEW YORK (CP)—A Canadian and his son, their names unannounced because of wartime secrecy, were responsible for improvements and improvisations of inestimable value to the Australian tank-producing industry.

L. W. Brockington, K.C., special adviser to the British Ministry of Information, said here Monday night in an address.

The mention of the Canadians came when Mr. Brockington was outlining to members of the Canadian Society of New York the part being played in the war by Australia.

Speaking of the industrial development of that Dominion, where factories that never produced even a small car before the war, now are turning out tanks, he said much of the success of the work was due to the Australians' ability to improvise—"their sense of adventure" which was displayed even in industry.

Continuing, he revealed that several of the improvements and improvisations were the work of an unidentified Canadian, who did not live to see all his findings put to use.

Children Thought Bananas Medicine

LONDON (CP)—Bananas, grapefruit and bright lights have become things of a mythical world to British children who were babes in arms when war started.

Just how rare tropical fruits are in the minds of children was portrayed when two boys in a London hospital thought a bunch of bananas was a new type of medicine. They had to be shown how to peel them and it was only after lengthy encouragement that they reluctantly consented to taste the "medicine."

There are nearly 2,000,000 boys and girls between the ages of five and seven in Britain who have heard about oranges and lemons, but what they look like, let alone taste, is virtually unknown to them.

In a representative section of children in a London county council school at West Kensington none of a class of 40 could remember having seen shop windows lit up at night, the unshaded beams of car lights, grapefruit or Brazil nuts.

Victoria V.D. Rate Reported Highest Army Heads Say

VANCOUVER (CP)—A statement released today by Pacific Command headquarters took issue with figures on the venereal disease rate in the army recently quoted by Mayor Andrew McGavin of Victoria and said that Victoria was the chief source of venereal disease infection among soldiers in British Columbia.

In a period of 18 months, army authorities have reported 43 cases of infection contracted in disorderly houses of the Capital City against a single case reported from all other B.C. communities.

Figures of venereal incidence rate as quoted to Victoria Police Commission by Mayor McGavin last Tuesday are incorrect, army spokesmen declared. The mayor, protesting against alleged charges by Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, that disorderly houses are open in Victoria and that the venereal rate is extremely high, quoted the army rate as 6 per 1,000 in 1942.

"The correct rate of venereal disease for the Canadian army in the Pacific Command for 1942 was 19.8 per 1,000 strength," the statement continues.

SOURCE UNKNOWN

"The Canadian army is unaware of the source of statistics quoted for B.C. and for the city of Victoria, which were incorrectly stated."

"An analysis of Department of National Defence records on file reveals that, since the onset of war, among enlisted personnel who have become infected in houses of prostitution in B.C., 76 per cent of such personnel were infected in such premises located in the City of Victoria."

"Whereas there has been only one reported instance of a venereal infection contracted in disorderly houses of other B.C. communities by enlisted personnel of the armed forces in the past 18 months, during the same period there have been 43 infections from disorderly houses allegedly operating in the City of Victoria."

"If such premises in Victoria have been suppressed, the effect will be reflected in further reduced rates of venereal disease among enlisted personnel so long as such premises remain closed."

Appropriation Raised 17 Times Above 1942

OTTAWA (CP)—Provision of 17 times the quantity of ammunition and bombs for use of the Canadian army, as compared with last year, disclosed in the House of Commons Monday night, was taken by observers here as an indication of expected activity by the Canadian overseas army in the near future.

This figure was shown in a breakdown of the army's share of $1,764,000,000 in the $3,890,000,000 war appropriation bill for the fiscal year which began last April 1.

It showed the appropriation for ammunition and bombs would be $273,325,800, as compared with $17,327,329 in the last fiscal year.

The appropriation for armament, including rifles, machine guns, mortars and guns of all kinds, was doubled, $123,070,907, as against $63,832,169.

BIG PAY TOTAL

This year's army appropriation is about $700,000,000 greater than last year. Another large increase is for pay and allowances—$539,730,211, as against $383,411,423 last year.

The figures were given the House by Defence Minister Ralston.

Prime Minister King told the House he hoped that at a later date he would be able to give the House some information regarding his conversations in Washington with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Justice Minister St. Laurent said there had been no time yet for the government to consider any action that might be taken by the government as a result of Moscow's action in recommending dissolution of the Third Internationale.

W. Ross Macdonald, Liberal, Brantford, was scored by John Diefenbaker, Prog. Con., Lake Centre, Sask., for suggesting that Canadians who are called up, but refuse to volunteer for service overseas, be sent to Alaska to release Americans for fighting fronts.

Mr. Diefenbaker described this as "astounding," and unlikely to aid Canadian American amity.

CREDIT BUREAU GETS DEFAULTERS

He declared the government as yet had no specific manpower policy, and while assurance had been given that adequate reinforcements for the overseas army were available, no figures had been given to support that assurance.

He said that some 200,000 young men in Canada had failed to answer compulsory service calls and that instead of using police to apprehend them the government had engaged a Toronto credit bureau at $2.50 per head for defaulters located.

7 Canadians Killed When Nazis Raid English Town

A SOUTH COAST BRITISH TOWN (CP)—Seven Canadian servicemen, possibly one or two more, were killed and a number of others injured when a hotel was hit by a bomb recently in this town.

The casualties among persons in uniform were considered extremely light in view of the number in the seaside town at the time. They were heavy among the civilian population who rated, the alert as "just another warning."

There were a number of Canadians among guests of the hotel struck by the bomb dropped by one of the sneak raiders. The missile wrecked one hotel wing, trapping some Canadians, mostly women, who were rescued. Few had escaped injury.

Besides the hotel where the Canadians were staying, another was demolished. A department store was gutted by fire, a church steeple crashed to earth, a cinema and a memorial hall received direct hits. Scores of other properties were damaged.

CLEARED AWAY WRECKAGE
Servicemen and civilians working side by side with civil defence personnel and fire fighters cleared away rubble to reach persons trapped in the hotel.

Meanwhile parties of men clambered over the wreckage and up to bedrooms, many of which were cut in half and in some of which persons had been caught. Disregarding risk, rescue parties were thus able to extricate a number of guests who were lowered to waiting ambulances.

Wing Cmdr. G. E. M. Scott of Toronto said it was amazing that casualties were so slight and added there was no lack of volunteers to aid in rescue work.

"Everybody pitched in," he said. "Our Canadian fellows were very good. We got high compliments about them."

Flt. Lt. N. Black of Toronto said there was no panic after the bomb hit the hotel.

The raid lasted about two minutes, but in the words of another Canadian it was "two minutes of eternity."

As raids go, it was not a big one. Before the people knew what was happening, not more than 10 or 12 raiders, fast fighter-bombers carrying one or perhaps two 500-pounders each, roared in at roof-top height and dropped their bombs and machine-gunned the streets as they crossed the town from east to west.

Then they raced quickly back out to sea.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
Intensification of the Japanese military operations in the area of the strategic port of Ichang on the Yangtse River appears to hold unpleasant potentialities.

Observers in Chungking figure the Japanese are out to consolidate important territory along the Yangtse, and perhaps to make a drive against the Chinese provisional capital itself. In either event, rich agricultural provinces—vital to the maintenance of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's regime—would be a stake.

The Japanese early this year threatened to go all-out to smash Chungking and knock Gen. Chiang out of the war. Whether this is the inauguration of such a campaign remains to be seen. It hasn't gone far enough yet to warrant us in assuming the Chungking area is involved.

However, it's a harsh fact that should the Nipponese succeed in capturing the capital, and in overrunning the provinces of Hunan and Szechwan, with their wealth of rice and other vital resources, it would place a terrific strain of unpredictable effect on the hard-pressed Chinese. This isn't cited in any spirit of pessimism but as representing the possible goal of the rising sun barbarians.

Official quarters in Chungking say that "the Chinese are well prepared" to meet such a fresh onslaught, and one hopes this is a correct estimate of the position. Certainly there is no doubt of Chinese bravery and, apart from other considerations, nature has set down some great barriers in the path of the Japanese.

The bomb-torn mountain city of Chungking lies less than 300 miles by air to the west of the strategic Yangtse port of Ichang, which is in Jap hands. However, Ichang is at the eastern entrance of the Yangtse gorges. West of this city are mountains through which the mighty river has cut the famous gorge that in some places is 2,000 feet deep in solid rock. The gorge and the surrounding mountains provide strong defences against invasion.

Meagre reports of the fighting indicate the Japs may be calculating on driving westward to the south of the Yangtse in an effort to reach Chungking. They also are operating to the north of Ichang, which might represent an effort to get at the capital by a route north of the Yangtse. Monday's Chinese communique reported a successful counterattacks against the Japs in this latter zone.

Of course, Gen. Chiang still has a vast hinterland into which he could retire with his government and his armies. However, he would be leading his people out into a comparative wilderness. Thus it is essential that Chungking and the agricultural areas in neighboring territory be held.

Detroit Man Jailed; Concealed Treason

DETROIT (AP)—Convicted of concealing from government authorities his knowledge of Max Stephan's treason, Theodore Donay was sentenced Monday to six years and six months in prison and fined $1,000 by Judge Frank A. Picard.

Donay, German-born head of an importing firm, was convicted of misprision of treason, the government charging he knew that Stephan Detroit restaurateur, aided the flight of Lieut. Hans Peter Krug, Nazi flier, from a Canadian prison camp, but failed to report his knowledge to federal officers.

Not Old Freighter

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Minister Power said in the House of Commons Monday that a ship sunk in the Atlantic by enemy action with loss of 37 R.C.A.F. personnel was a suitable ship for passengers and not "an old freighter" as had been rumored.

Agreement Expected

UNLESS SOME UNPREDICTABLE CIRCUMSTANCE should intervene to prevent it, and that seems scarcely likely at this juncture, General Henri Giraud and General Charles de Gaulle will shortly dispose of the main differences which have hitherto barred the way to the formation of a solid French front against the Axis. To conclude the more detailed negotiations which have proceeded in recent weeks it is expected the two leaders will meet in Algiers within the next few days. The proposal awaiting endorsement is one which envisages the establishment of a central authority to merge all the effectiveness of the two branches of opposition to the enemy, and to constitute the sole agency of all liberated French territory and of French resistance on soil still occupied and controlled by the Axis. Under this plan, General Giraud and General de Gaulle would each select two men, and the six together would choose three more to form an executive of nine, and that, to all intents and purposes, would become a provisional government operative for the time being from north Africa.

It is generally understood in London that General Giraud has agreed to two main points over which the organizations of the two French leaders have hitherto been divided. These were: 1. De Gaulle's opposition to the suggestion that the projected regime should be composed mainly of colonial governors. 2. The position of the supreme French military commander during the interim between the Allied landings in France and the formation of a government by the French population on the basis of the Republic constitution. Giraud had suggested that the army commander should head the government during this period. De Gaulle had been equally insistent that the proposed north African regime should assume immediate control. Beyond these considerations, of course, the leader of the Fighting French—who ever since 1940 has rallied the resistance movement in the enslaved homeland—has stoutly protested against the holding of any office of authority by men with the slightest Vichy taint.

At no time has it seemed to us fair to blame the differences between General Giraud and General de Gaulle on personal ambition. The fact that they may not have seen eye to eye in respect of detail, or that in some of their pronouncements have been detected political leanings as to method, pales into insignificance when placed side by side with their unchallenged concern for the future of their native land. Earlier signs of General de Gaulle's Rightist or reactionary tendencies, for example, have been overshadowed by his unqualified adoption of a democratic policy—testified to by the mandate he holds from the French underground movement. He is thus bound to oppose those whom the French people consider traitors. Nor is there serious doubt about the position of General Giraud. Nobody can legitimately accuse him of collaboration with Hitler—despite his concessions to pro-Fascist elements. His opposition to the Nazis is supported by the manner in which he risked his own life to get free to fight them. At the forthcoming meeting between the two leaders, therefore, principles rather than personalities will be expected to dominate the atmosphere.

The Next 100,000 Tons

THREE WEEKS AGO TONIGHT THE great industrial and communications city of Dortmund felt the weight of 1,500 tons of bombs which a great fleet of R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. four-engined machines delivered in what the Air Ministry called a "very heavy" saturation raid. The loss of 30 planes on that occasion was considered a low cost in view of the damage caused. Sunday night's jaunt, however, set a new mark and represents the heaviest of all aerial attacks. More than 2,000 tons of high explosives hit the city, or five times as much in weight as the Luftwaffe dropped on London when Goering's supposedly invincible force enjoyed its maximum striking power. The fact that only 38 machines, out of perhaps a thousand, failed to return speaks volumes for the punishment to which anti-aircraft defences were subjected.

Goering's four-year-old promise that not a single enemy bomb would plague the Ruhr valley was recalled in London yesterday by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris—including the announcement that the Reich already had been the recipient of 100,000 tons of aerial explosives since the war began. By way of contributing to the new war of nerves, incidentally, the redoubtable head of Bomber Command suggested that "the next 100,000, if he (Goering) waits for them, will be even bigger and better bombs, delivered even more accurately and in much shorter time." With this threat ringing in their ears, if they have heard it, the 550,000 inhabitants of Dortmund are still trying to sort themselves out of the effects of their 26th raid of the war.

Our New Canadians

FEW WILL AGREE WITH A CANADIAN organization's argument that immigration to this country after the war should be confined to British stock. Sentiment is no substitute for logic. In the first place, the main source of supply of British people is the United Kingdom, and the fact sticks out as plain as a pikestaff that the number from that country willing and able to leave it for many years will be a comparative trickle. In the second place, the new Britain, with a measure of social security likely to exceed that of any other nation in the efficacy of its application, will represent to all her people the embodiment of triumph over the greatest peril by which they had ever been confronted.

By another token, of course, many will want to get away from the Old World and try their fortunes in the New. These will constitute but an infinitesimal part of the response to Canada's demand for a population of a size, for instance, that will contribute substantially to the distribution of postwar taxation. To enable us to meet the cost of the war, to apply ourselves to the manifold tasks of development under innumerable heads, this country will require an immigration policy that will offer the prospect of an inflow comparable to that of the expansive decade preceding the outbreak of the first Great War.

Great Britain's reconstruction program will furnish steady employment for hundreds of thousands of her own people—with an enormous demand for diversified services and a vast variety of commodities at present out of production. It would not be surprising, moreover, if many workers from the presently-occupied countries drifted to the United Kingdom if only to get clear from the horrible memory of life under the heel of Hitlerism. In other words, Canada must make up her mind to issue an attractive invitation to the people of northern Europe who are willing to come to this country and become good Canadians.

The answer to the argument that only British stock should be admitted is to be found in Air Minister Power's compelling recital in the House of Commons the other day of the story of the Central European immigrant husband and wife who came to this country at the beginning of the century. They are the Deutschers of Odessa, Saskatchewan, whose eight boys are in the Royal Canadian Air Force. These are, as the Air Minister quite properly says, "Canadians in the fullest and truest sense of that description." Canada has room for millions more like them.

Premier Aberhart

WHEN THE VOTERS OF ALBERTA elected the first Social Credit government in the summer of 1935 the world's attention instantly centred itself on that province. Several parts of the British Empire had been visited by Major C. H. Douglas, the doctrine's principal travelling exponent during the early depression years, and governmental and other groups had listened to his expositions with due solemnity. How many are enlightened at this stage, we have no means of knowing. The death of Premier William Aberhart, however, may temporarily revive discussions of a financial "system" which has not been applied in practice but whose propaganda has sustained a government for eight years—all efforts to deliver monthly dividends of $25 to every man and woman in the province being balked by disallowances in provincial and federal courts and vain appeals to the Privy Council.

The late Mr. Aberhart nevertheless was sincere in his convictions. Nor will any fair-minded Canadian object to his contention that some phases of the Dominion's financial system require considerable readjustment in view of the circumstances of these times. But the majority of the people of this country are not responsive to Utopian arguments which have as their basis what has come to be regarded as "funny money." But the late Premier of Alberta had the satisfaction of knowing that throughout the rural parts of his province his supporters still clung to the belief that the system of monthly dividends, while delayed in its operation, would eventually materialize. The Social Credit administration at Edmonton still has a substantial working majority in the Legislature. How it will fare when it next appeals to the people, especially in view of the complete metamorphosis which the war has wrought throughout the land—especially in the relationships between provincial and federal authorities—must remain in the realm of conjecture. Mr. Aberhart's legion of friends throughout the nation will mourn the death of a sincere and courageous Premier.

Notes

There is no fault in the system of "private enterprise" that laws curbing swine and thieves won't cure.

A hick town is a place where people watch the cashier sticking his salary in slot machines and think he is the sucker.

Canadian Aid to Russia Fund books were to have been closed in February, but money continues to flow into the Toronto headquarters at the rate of between $2,000 and $3,000 a day from every part of Canada. Included in the latest receipts are $51 from the Victoria committee; $105 from Provincial Chapter of B.C., I.O.D.E.; $5 from Victoria printers. The fund is now over $3,050,000—more than three times the original objective. The response of the people of Canada has exceeded the highest hopes of those who organized the appeal, especially as it was a campaign without personal canvassing.

KING HATER

MR. EUGENE FORSEY is one of the leading Leftists of Canada, a brilliant young man who does deep research for labor organizations and writes on social problems in the pink papers. Lately he has written a book which most Canadians will find most deadly dull in itself but which, for reasons unsuspected by the author, is extraordinarily interesting.

Mr. Forsey writes his book to prove that the Governor-General of Canada has the right to refuse to dissolve Parliament even if the Prime Minister advises him to do so. Most Canadians are not much concerned about that at the moment, having their minds on other matters. Most of them would say, if you asked them, that they didn't care a hoot if the Governor-General had the power or not, or even whether he used it or not at any moment.

However, that is only a superficial view of the Canadian people. When you get down to a serious consideration of this fundamental constitutional problem you find them exceedingly interested and remarkably intelligent.

Mr. King suspected that when the issue arose in 1926. He suspected that when Lord Bynne refused to dissolve Parliament on his advice that the Canadian people would resent it. No one else thought so. Mr. King's colleagues said the people would only yawn at this issue and vote for Mr. Meighen. But by the time Mr. King had explained the issues involved—the right of Canada to be treated by the Crown just as Britain is treated and not as a colony of savages in the South Seas—the Canadian people rose up and kicked Mr. Meighen straight into history, from which he has never been able to return.

But this is old stuff now, settled, finally. In favor of Mr. King, in favor of the proposition that our elected government and not the Governor-General is supreme in Canada.

The interesting thing is that Mr. Forsey should have written a book to prove that Canada really acted wrongly all through this business and that Lord Bynne acted properly. For by attacking Mr. King, by rehashing all the old straw of the 1926 election, Mr. Forsey, the Leftist, now joins the extreme Right, the dark-blue Tories of Canada. He becomes, in fact, the ablest exponent of Mr. Meighen's theory.

POWERFUL CHEMISTRY

BUT DO NOT BE surprised at this chemistry which draws all these diverse elements together. It is the most powerful chemistry in our nation. It is hatred of Mr. King.

The King-haters will combine regardless of any disagreement. They may be Leftists like Mr. Forsey, or deep-eyed Tories like Mr. Meighen, but they will forget all their disagreements, they will clasp one another to their bosoms, they will march together in the comradeship of common battle so long as it is against Mr. King.

King-hating in Canada has become almost a religious rite, like the practices of the yogi in India. It has become a kind of sacrament, a purely spiritual activity, conducted on the astral plane, a deep mystery unknown except to the communicants. I myself have seen men who ruined their lives, destroyed their business prosperity and finally ended their days in lonely misery simply because they hated Mr. King. I know men who claim a respectable place in our politics who have no other political belief except that Mr. King has wrecked the country and must be got rid of, no matter who takes his place—who would vote with equal enthusiasm for Mr. Meighen or Mr. Coldwell if it would assure the end of the present Prime Minister.

NEGATIVE FORCE

OF THIS SCHOOL of thought Mr. Forsey now emerges as the ablest exponent and sharpest force. I doubt that such a program will carry him far, because hatred is not a very safe vehicle for political progress to travel in. Hatred is a negative force in the world. Hatred has corrupted every society where it has entered. Hatred between classes corrodes the state. Hatred, when made a basic policy of the state, as in Germany, finally results in the hatred of all men against all other men, and this hatred eventually will stop the Germans fighting us and start them fighting among themselves.

Hatred is entirely out of the tradition of British politics. We are poor haters and our parliamentary system is built on another sentiment entirely. It is built on the principle of co-operation, above all, on the protection of minorities, and in the actual operation of that principle politicians generally get along very well together.

In the Canadian Parliament you will find men of all parties eating together, talking together and conferring together. They do not agree, they fight in Parliament, but with a few exceptions, they do not quarrel in private.

This is very important if democracy is to survive, for if another state of mind replaces this, if hate is carried into our politics, eventually there will be no protection of minorities and no possibility of conciliation and compromise; which is the chief purpose of our system, just as the refusal to compromise is the chief theory of the dictators. Mr. Forsey's book will not be widely read, for the issue it raises is long since dead. But that will not stop the King-haters. They will find new reasons to hate in every act of the government, and they will continue to be very unhappy men, eaten up by a canker inside them.

A Bad Case of Earburn

'British Restaurants'—Communal Feeding

LONDON. "British Restaurants"—communal feeding centres—made their first appearance in the early days of the blitz on London. Plans had been made for such an emergency as the necessity of communal feeding, but no such centres were actually operating when the heavy air raids began in September, 1940.

In the first week of the blitz, 20 feeding centres were opened by the London County Council at the request of Lord Woolton, Minister of Food in the British government.

By the end of the third week, 60 communal feeding centres were in operation. By the end of six months, 150 centres were established. These were primarily intended to cater to people who had been deprived through the blitz of ways and means of cooking adequate meals for themselves.

All meals supplied by "British Restaurants" are paid for, in contrast to meals supplied free at rest centres to bombed-out persons. The following prices are typical:

Soup	4 cents
Main Course	16 cents
Dessert	4 to 6 cents
Cup of Tea	2 cents

The British Ministry of Food maintains a high nutritional standard for the meals served at "British Restaurants."

"British Restaurants" are set up in any premises available; for instance, one has been set up in the bombed kitchen of a big London hospital.

Lunchtime concerts in wartime are very difficult to arrange, and music is provided in "British Restaurants" in a variety of ways. The D'Oyly Carte Opera Company visited one London centre and were a huge success. Popular radio stars appear. Groups of musical students volunteer to provide a program.

More Than Hands Across the Line

From Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Much more than a friendly gesture of "hands across the border" is involved in the visit to Seattle of British Columbia business men, just concluded.

Many years ago Victoria, Vancouver and the cities of our own Puget Sound region discovered the advantages of co-operative action in summer tourist advertising. Out of that discovery grew the effective work of the Evergreen Playground Association.

But the Pacific Northwest, on both sides of the international boundary, is much more than a playground.

It is a land in which increasing millions of people will live. The production, the transportation and the exchange of goods will be their main occupations. And by determining to develop the machinery for effective co-operation on this level, the business men of Seattle, of Vancouver, of Victoria and of New Westminster are setting a pattern that should prove historic in the development of the vast area, from Alaska southward, on the shores of what will soon prove to be the world's most important ocean.

Alaska is of particular importance in this connection. A common interest in the solution of Alaskan problems is actually bringing Canada and the United States closer together.

There is every hope that out of the conferences just concluded will grow a successful movement for a real Alaska highway, more serviceable than the interior Alcan road, which as to its route can be justified only on the grounds of emergency military necessity. There is every hope that the combined efforts of the Canadian, Washington and Alaskan leaders will result in early arrangements looking toward a railroad to Alaska and in practical settlement of international

Aleutians On Great Circle Routes From North Pacific to Tokyo

THE LONG DAILY HOURS of daylight and twilight which come during the summer months in the northland now illuminate the Aleutian Islands for nearly 19 hours out of each 24. The hours of daylight will constantly increase up until about the end of June. This means longer days for daylight bombing of the Japanese bases on Kiska and Attu.

AFFECTED BY PACIFIC CURRENT

Dutch Harbor is at about the same latitude as Edmonton, 300 miles north of the Canadian-American border. It has a far different climate, however, because the warm Pacific current sweeps the Aleutians and causes more uniform and higher temperatures, together with much rainfall and fog.

THE ALEUTIANS stretch westerly 1,200 miles from the end of the Alaska Peninsula nearly to Siberia. Attu, the westernmost Aleutian, now Japanese held, is less than 800 miles from the southern tip of the Kamchatka Peninsula. This in turn is only about 800 miles from the north coast of Hokkaido, the north island of Japan proper, and about 1,400 miles from Tokyo.

The Aleutian Islands have been described as a string of barren, rocky, treeless islands, stretching like stepping stones from Asia to North America. The ancestors of the American Indians and Eskimos probably followed these stepping stones in their hazardous migrations from eastern Asia to Alaska, and then to the south and east. It would seem them.

that the Japanese thought they could use the same stepping stones to reach the North American continent. But now they will be used in reverse.

ALEUTIANS AS BASES

THE IMPORTANCE of the Aleutians to the Canadian and American armed forces is strategic. First they must be cleared of the enemy. Then they can be used for bases between North America and Asia. They are close to or on the shortest routes across the Pacific.

The great circle route from San Francisco to Tokyo, 5,225 miles, passes south of the Aleutians. The 5,000-mile great circle route from Victoria or Seattle to Tokyo almost touches the islands. The air route from Fairbanks, Alaska, passes over them. From nearby Seattle to Dutch Harbor is 2,200 miles, and from there to Attu about 850 miles. Safe harbors and airfields along the Aleutians are of the utmost importance to the Allied Nations at war with Japan when the all-out attack on the Japanese homeland begins. They are important also in delivering aircraft cargoes of food and war equipment to Russia.

The Aleutian Islands cannot be used for food production except for fish. They lack the necessary soil. Most of them are uninhabited. They can be used the year around for military bases. They seldom have below zero temperature. But they are always chilly, damp and foggy. The fogs constitute the greatest difficulty in making full use of airways problems between Canada and the United States.

From Toronto Star. Prunella's going to have a smart Victory Garden. She's even pressing the scarecrow's trousers.

But most important of all is the realization that similar problems are faced by business men, and, indeed, by citizens generally upon both sides of the border. For in their efforts to expand the productivity of the Pacific Northwest and develop a region the business leaders with foresight are acting, not merely as trustees for the millions now residing west of the Rockies, but for many more millions yet to come.

The development of the Pacific Northwest and Alaska is a tremendous job.

All should be thankful that there are men on both sides of the border with the vision to appreciate the immensity of the task, with the determination to attack it, and with the intelligence to undertake it co-operatively.

Playground Help Sought by P.T.A.

In an effort to help curb what Ald. P. E. George termed a rising tide of juvenile delinquency in the city, Council of Social Agencies, in a letter read to the annual meeting of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council, requested volunteer helpers at the supervised playgrounds at Central and Beacon Hill Parks.

Mrs. P. Macmillan spoke on the roller skating project and the provision of playground facilities in districts not yet supplied, stating that contracts have been made with H. L. Campbell, municipal inspector of schools, and Ald. Duncan McTavish, chairman of the Parks Board.

Hope that supervised playgrounds might be established in Saanich was expressed by Mrs. H. A. Giles, president of Talmie P.T.A. Mrs. H. J. Cunningham reported on proposed changes to the constitution and Mrs. A. McKernon, membership convenor, stated that the number of members was up 3 per cent over last year and said that there were 1,434 members in 17 associations in Greater Victoria.

Other reports were given by: Mrs. W. R. Roskelley, delegate to the Council of Social Agencies; Mrs. P. Macmillan, rural schools; Mrs. D. B. Cantell, hospitality; Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, radio; Mrs. W. R. Gunn, fine arts; Mrs. L. R. Harper, publicity, and Mrs. C. Buhlin, children's radio program sponsored by the council.

Mrs. M. W. Dawson was re-elected president of the council. Other officers elected were: Mrs. D. B. Cantell, vice-president; Mrs. W. Blair, recording secretary; Mrs. E. Clayton Peters, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. McKernon, treasurer, and Mrs. R. H. McInnis, past president. Elected to the executive committee were: Mrs. H. A. Giles (Talmie), Mrs. L. R. Harper (Monterey), Mrs. H. G. Woollett (Sir James Douglas), and Mrs. A. J. Bewley (Willows). P. E. George conducted the installation. Rev. K. L. Sanderoock closed the meeting with prayer. Mrs. M. W. Dawson presided.

P.T.A. News

Plans for the school fair on June 4 were made at the Talmie P.T.A. meeting. The fair will be held in the school grounds and the proceeds will aid the library and recreation equipment funds. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. H. A. Giles; vice-president, Mrs. H. A. Giles; secretary-treasurer, Miss O'Connell; publicity, Mrs. Sinclair; membership-convenor, Mrs. Barrett; recreation convenor, Mrs. Kelman; Mrs. Kelman and Mrs. Rain were elected delegates to the district council.

Weddings

CLEALL-HUTCHEON

Barbara Dorothy Hutcheon, elder daughter of Capt. and Mrs. George S. Forbes, 1636 Pinewood Avenue, became the bride Saturday evening at 8, at St. Matthias' Church, of Capt. Frank Street Cleall, C.D.C., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Cleall, Unity, Sask. Rev. E. G. Burgess-Browne performed the ceremony, and Mr. Wm. Ellis played the wedding music. The church had been prettily decorated with yellow laburnum by Misses Marion Jones, Nancy Kyle, and Mrs. J. Porteous.

An afternoon frock of powder blue crepe, styled with bracelet-length sleeves, high neckline and ruffled pockets, was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her stepfather. Her tiny blue straw hat was trimmed with flowers, and wine veiling, and accessories were wine. A double strand of pearls was her only ornament, and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, sweet peas and lily of the valley. Miss Marnie Hutcheon, sister of the bride, was the only attendant, wearing a gold striped-length crepe frock, and a small hat of gold straw, trimmed with brown veiling. Her bouquet was composed of suntan snapdragons and gerbera. Best man was Capt. Steinbok, C.D.C., and M. Jack Porteous acted as usher.

At a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Forbes welcomed the guests, wearing a gown of dusty pink crepe, navy hat and accessories, assisted by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. F. Street, in dusky pink, with powder-blue hat and accessories. The bride's table was covered with a cutwork cloth, centred with a three-tier wedding cake, complemented by yellow tapers in silver holders, and bowls of yellow tulips.

After a honeymoon at Unity, Sask., Capt. and Mrs. Cleall will make their home at Port Alberni. For traveling, the bride wore a darker blue coat with platinum fox collar, over her wedding costume.

HALLING-STEPHENSON

The marriage took place Monday evening at 8, in the chapel of Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, of Barbara Mary Lambert, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. C. W. L. Cwacs Training On Guards' Ground In London

By SCOTT YOUNG
LONDON (CP)—A parade-ground which once turned out Grenadier Guards for service at Buckingham Palace is engaged these days in the production of finely-trained overseas units of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

On that parade-ground, with the Palace well within reach of the female drill-sergeant's penetrating voice, Canadian girls recruited in the United Kingdom train to share duties with the hundreds of C.W.A.C.'s Canada has sent to Britain in the last year.

The famous old parade-ground was a remarkable sight when the second contingent of Britain-recruited C.W.A.C.'s graduated from preliminary training a short time ago.

Brig. Rodger, personal assistant to Gen. A. G. McNaughton during the Canadian commander's visit to Canada last year, made a rapid tour up and down the lines, watched the precision drill, then made his exit in a staff car. On the inspection he was accompanied by Maj. Alice Sorby of Winnipeg, officer commanding the C.W.A.C. overseas.

The way the girls marched, there was really nothing for the Guards officers to complain about. One girl, Pte. Margaret Hart of Winnipeg and Erickdale, Man., explained tersely why: "They sure hammered a lot of training into that month." Her companions, Pte. Evelyn Waters of Victoria, B.C., and Pte. Colleen Martin of Winnipeg, agreed.

Winnipeggers headed the list of Canadians who enlisted over here, with Dorothy Betty Cowley, Margaret Victoria Hart, Eileen Dorothy Macdonald, Colleen Martin, Ada Masterton, Gladys Pike, Jill Kneebone and J. M. Gray. Other graduates included: Saskatchewan: Marion Clear, Springfield.

Alberta: Kathleen Dover, Red Deer; Nora Slade, Lawsonburg; Violet Wilson, Pincher Creek.

British Columbia: Rose Ball, Vancouver; Ethel May Nightingale, Vancouver; Evelyn Waters, Victoria; Millicent Ogilvie, Vancouver.

Guides and Brownies At Church Parade

About 300 Guides and Brownies in their attractive uniforms paraded to Christ Church Cathedral Sunday morning for the annual divisional church parade.

Mustering at the Guide headquarters on Johnson Street, the girls, who were headed by the Gonzales Company carrying the colors and led by the Girls' Pipe Band, marched along Quadra Street to the cathedral, where they were met by Very Rev. Dean S. H. Elliott.

The Dean preached an impressive and appropriate sermon, touching upon Guide ideals and signs and their significance, and impressing upon his young hearers the great importance of living up to Guide teachings. Special hymns were sung and the Guide prayer was recited in unison.

At the conclusion of the service, Dean Elliott had a word for all Guides and Brownies as they left the cathedral. Marching back to Johnson Street, the Guides after their dismissal gave three rousing cheers for the Girls' Pipe Band. Mrs. Foster was in charge of the parade.

Passed With Honors

Miss Athena Alexander, 2757 Dufferin Street, passed examinations in the teachers' training course at the University of British Columbia with second-class honors, according to an announcement made by the Department of Education, and is now qualified to teach high school subjects.

Elks W.A. will hold a dance in the Elks' Hall on Thursday. All proceeds are in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium. W.A. has nearly reached its objective of the endowment of a cot at the Solarium. Next W.A. meeting will be Monday at 8 in the Elks' Hall.

Chicken en Casserole

Stewing fowl makes a tasty, economical dish done this way

In times of peace, chicken—especially a fine roast capon or a broiler, fried southern style—is a dish for special occasions. But now, in wartime, stewing fowl can often provide a useful alternative when other meats are scarce. And done "En Casserole," it makes a delicious dish for a family meal or a party.

First, disjoint the bird, dividing the breast into four portions (or five, if you count the wish bone). The legs will, of course, be two portions each, but the wings are generally left whole. Dredge in flour, then brown in hot fat. Slice two onions fine and cover the bottom of a glass or earthenware casserole or covered stew pan with them. Arrange a layer of the browned chicken on the onion slices. Next a layer of peeled, sliced potatoes. Another layer of chicken. If you have meat stock, fill up the casserole, cover and simmer for two hours in a slow oven. If you have no meat stock on hand stew the carcass and giblets of the chicken for an hour or so and use the liquor. A cup of cooked peas, diced carrots, or ½ lb. of peeled mushrooms can be added with advantage to this dish.

EAT THESE FOODS EACH DAY
MEAT, FISH or POULTRY and 3 or 4 eggs a week.
TOMATOES or Citrus fruits or their juices and one other fruit.
VEGETABLES—stress leafy green or yellow, frequently raw, besides potatoes.
BREAD—4-6 slices Canada Approved and one serving whole grain cereal.
MILK—Adults ½ pint. Children more than one pint. Cheese if available.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell 'Grand Old Man' of Agriculture, Dies

REGINA (CP)—Hon. W. R. Motherwell, 83, "the grand old man of Canadian agriculture," who probably promoted more agriculture reforms than any other man in the Dominion's history, died here Monday.

Mr. Motherwell, pioneer of the ex-cart days in Saskatchewan, unceasingly devoted his time to agriculture improvement as head of various farm organizations and as minister of agriculture in Saskatchewan and for the Dominion until his retirement when 80 years of age.

As a homesteader at Abernethy, Sask., where he settled in 1882, Mr. Motherwell was the first president of the Territorial Grain Growers' Association, first Saskatchewan minister of agriculture, and became known as the father of the co-operative movement among agrarians.

The funeral will be held from Abernethy United Church tomorrow with Rev. A. C. Burley of Abernethy officiating.

Relatives surviving him are his wife, a son, R. T. Motherwell, a grandson, Richard Motherwell, both of Abernethy, a granddaughter, Miss Laura Motherwell, Saskatoon, and a sister, Mrs. Alex Rogers, Portland, Ont.

HOMESTEADER

Born in Lanark County, Ont., Mr. Motherwell began his agriculture career on a homestead at Abernethy, Sask., in 1882 and became one of the Dominion's leading agricultural authorities. He traveled from Brandon, Man., to Indian Head, Sask., in a Red River cart.

Elected president of the Territorial Grain Growers' Association, formed at Indian Head, in 1901, he later took an active part in formation of other prairie organizations—elevator companies, co-operative societies and pools.

ELECTED 1905

Elected to the Saskatchewan Legislature in 1905, he was minister of agriculture in the province during the Liberal administrations of Hon. Walter Scott and Hon. W. M. Martin until 1918. From 1921 until 1930 he was Dominion minister of agriculture.

Mr. Motherwell was educated at the Perth, Ont., Collegiate and the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Prominent agriculture posts he held included president of the International Dry-Farming Congress in 1913 and president of the International Irrigation Congress in 1916.

He was an honorary fellow of the British Society of Agriculture and received an LL.D. from the University of Saskatchewan and held the order of Commander of Agricultural Merit awarded by the Quebec government.

Late in 1921, a few days before reaching his 62nd birthday, Mr. Motherwell was sworn in as a member of R. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's Liberal government as Dominion Minister of Agriculture. He resigned the cabinet position in 1930.

He was prominent in a campaign against increasing ravages of wheat stem rust on the prairies, a campaign that resulted in establishment of the Dominion rust research laboratory in Winnipeg in 1925.

SET UP DAIRY ACT
In Saskatchewan he was instrumental in having passed by legislature the Dairy Industry Act which provided for loans to finance the setting up of creameries in 1906, and two years later the inauguration of a livestock distribution policy. During his agriculture administration in the province the co-operation and markets branch of his department was formed with assistance given to co-operatives.

Other legislation brought about through efforts of the Abernethy homesteader included compulsory grading of farm and orchard produce and standardization of all farm products for export.

Mr. Motherwell, who had been a member of Parliament for Melville constituency in Saskatchewan from 1921, announced his retirement from an active political career in June, 1939. "When a man drops out at 80, people can't say he is a quitter," he said at that time. He did not contest the constituency in the 1940 general election.

Daughters of St. George, Princess Patricia Lodge, met in the S.O.E. Hall, Mrs. E. Jackson presiding. Following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Edna Jackson; vice-president, Mrs. F. Pascoe; recording secretary, Mrs. E. Restell; chaplain, Mrs. E. Rose; first conductor, Mrs. J. Lang; second conductor, Mrs. E. Lang; inner guard, Mrs. E. Morrish; outer guard, Mrs. E. Eight boys from Monterey put on a hobby and picture show, and donated $11.15; another group sold plants and realized $20. At the Willows, 11 girls raised $40.20 from a bazaar, while "Patsy and Gail" from Monterey donated $5.10 from their own private bazaar.

Besides the $484 raised for the War Nurseries, students have worked hard to make generous contributions to other causes, such as Bundles for Britain, Navy League, Russian Relief and Poppy Day.

Some of the proceeds from the schoolchildren's activities has been invested in War Savings Stamps and Victory Bonds, which up to the end of April has amounted to $4,455.25 between the two Oak Bay schools.

Regular salvage collections are made by the students who collected well over 2,400 pounds during the recent salvage drive.

Pupils from both schools sang over C.J.V.I. in aid of the Solarium Shower of Dimes, and bought tickets amounting to $22. The Red Cross Society has not been forgotten, and many afghans, scarfs, facecloths, handkerchiefs and jerseys have been made and turned in to this organization.

Stamps for the collection of the Crippled Children's Hospital in England are always welcome, and so the Oak Bay pupils made a drive and collected 60,000 postage stamps which have already been dispatched.

Lecturer Says Diets Will Ward Off Colds

Speaking to the Victoria Vegetarian Society on "Nothing to Sneeze At" or "How to Prevent Your Own Cold and Dodge Your Neighbor's," Jack Logie said the common cold is nothing but an attempt on the part of the system to eliminate poisons which have been accumulating over a period of years and which are caused by wrong food combinations and faulty diet. "We eat too much acid-forming proteins, mix our starches and acid fruits in deadly concoctions such as the familiar rhubarb pie and impoverish our systems and lower our alkaline reserve by devitalized and processed foods which have been robbed of their essential vitamins and mineral salts," he said.

During the past decade, he said, an entirely new theory of health through correct diet and sane living has been evolved and it has become universal knowledge that if food is 80 per cent raw, alive and alkaline-forming the common cold and the germ from your less fortunate neighbor will pass you by.

The best way in which to build up alkaline reserve is by the constant use of vegetable and fruit juices.

U.S. Black Market Found in Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Disclosure of a black market in Edmonton, dealing in United States cigarettes, coffee, tea, butter, gasoline, liquor and shotgun shells, was made Monday night when Royal Canadian Mounted Police revealed the arrest of two men employed by American concerns here and seizure of a quantity of merchandise.

Supt. J. D. Bird, head of the criminal investigation branch, Alberta division, R.C.M.P., revealed the arrests but stressed the fact that the U.S. firms where the men were employed were in no way involved in the operations.

Arrested were Chris D. Needham and Robert M. Rado. Needham is charged with conspiring to defraud in selling cigarettes and of conspiring to commit an indictable offence. He is also charged with violation of the Customs Act and with violation of the Excise Act. Rado faces charges of conspiring to commit an indictable offence and with conspiring with Needham to obtain American cigarettes.

Suffering two broken legs, injuries to the face and head and extensive bruises when struck by a car, Sunday, on Gorge Road, three-year-old Edward Polinsky, 2927 Wascana Street, Saanich, was reported to be in a satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital today.

The child was struck by a car

Quiet Program For May 24 Holiday

Sunday's band concert at Beacon Hill, the intercity ball games at Athletic Park and Monday night's street dance gave Victorians a pleasant program for May 24, as citizens modified their celebration of the holiday weekend in accordance with wartime living.

Highway traffic was unusually low for the period, although several hundred motorists managed to reach summer camps for the two-day holiday.

The Sunday concert at Beacon Hill was a feature of the festivities as the widely-known Royal Canadian Navy Band under the direction of Lieut. H. G. Cuthbert presented a variety of selections including marches, waltzes and rumbas to a crowd of approximately 5,000 which surrounded the band stand and reached up toward the crown of the hill.

Assistant bandmaster S. Sunderland and Bandsmen J. Terry and M. Sinden were warmly applauded for their cornet trio.

Crowds jammed the sides of Blanshard Street by the library to participate in the cheer-up concert and dance staged under the sponsorship of the city's entertainment committee. Murray Martindale acted as master of ceremonies, with "Curly" Perullat leading community singing. Bert White scored his usual success as a Chinese laundryman with a one-stringed fiddle and Darrel Brooks rendered solos for Ernie Fullerton's orchestra.

Prior to the opening of the concert and dance Victoria police used mobile jacks to cart parked automobiles from the sides of the street to a nearby service station lot.

In other parts of the Dominion Canadians celebrated the Victoria Day holiday much as they have been accustomed to in the past, although Dominion government employees across the country found themselves at work throughout the day.

Victoria Day was one of the holidays eliminated by the Dominion government in its effort to boost war production, but in most centres the day had been proclaimed a civic holiday. Thus most retail enterprises were closed, along with schools, liquor stores, and some provincial government offices.

driven by Alfred Ford, New Westminster. The accident occurred opposite the San Sebastian auto camp when young Edward attempted to cross the busy highway.

Assistance at the scene of the accident was rendered by Mr. Ford and the child was taken to hospital by Ellis Greenock, 76 Gorge Road West. Dr. R. B. Robertson is attending. Constables Jack Hamilton and W. A. Pearson of Saanich police department took measurements at the scene.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

GROUP OF ATHLETES located at a west coast R.C.A.F. station have a good chance of performing on Canadian championship teams in two different sports the same year. Few weeks ago the Flyers captured the national basketball crown with three straight triumphs over Windsor Patricks. Members of the winning club included Norm and Ralph Baker, Bobby Phelan and Art McKim. Now this foursome are out preparing for a box lacrosse campaign which they hope will carry them to the Dominion championship.

Looking over the list of name players the Flyers have available for their lacrosse line-up we would say they have every chance of going through to a Canadian championship. In addition to the four players already mentioned the R.C.A.F. will have Chuck Morfitt, Bob Lee, Max Turner, Norm Coates, Johnny Smith and Will Harrison, just to name a few. As a matter of fact, they will come up with the finest aggregation of gutted-stick performers to ever show around these parts. Big worry of the Flyers was to secure local competition, but the entry of the Navy along with the Victoria Dodgers, assures the boxla boys of a good senior circuit.

When Bob Montgomery slugged Beau Jack all over the canvas of Madison Square Garden Friday night to lift the New York and New Jersey version of the lightweight title the Philadelphiaian just threw added confusion into the ranks of the 135-pounders. The confusion started last November when Sammy Angott announced his retirement along about the time Jack belted the life out of Allie Stolz. When the former Atlanta shoe-shine boy followed this up by putting a lily in the hand of Tippy Larkin, the New York moguls recognized him as boss of the lightweights. Meanwhile, Angott returned to the wars to smack the supposedly-clever featherweight champion, Willie Pep. Recognition as champion doesn't seem to bother Angott.

Montgomery's triumph was another rude jolt to the experts who had established Jack a heavy favorite. In five previous starts at the Garden, Montgomery had failed to knock ringworms out into the aisles, and was once outwrestled by Angott. Although both fighters were the 15-round route for the first time Montgomery definitely showed he knows more about boxing. Jack definitely tired in the late rounds just as he did in 10 and 12-round fights with Zivic and a 10-rounder with Armstrong.

Had a chat over the weekend with Jim (Red) Kearney, former member of this sports department and now associated with the sport staff of the Vancouver Sun. He informed us the mainland ball league is having its trouble getting the fans out, but have a well-balanced circuit. Kearney likes the Army team to win. Questioned about lacrosse prospects on the mainland Kearney said Burrard had a smart club with all of last year's team available. New Westminster Salmonbellies had just about decided to throw up the ghost and drop out of competition. Kearney informed us. Of last year's B.C. championship team the fishermen had only Alan Askew left. Blackie Black and Downey are going into the services while a number of the players have decided to hang up their togs.

Richards Sets Record

Rides 2,750th Winner

WINDSOR, Eng. (CP)—Despite a lightning strike by 300 bus workers, the largest crowd in the history of the Windsor race track overflowed the gigantic ring and cheered mightily as Britain's champion jockey smashed a record that stood for 57 years.

Giving the lie to critics who believed such sports as racing could not survive bitter war years, nearly 30,000 holidaymakers walked, cycled, traveled by horse-drawn conveyances or were rowed from the town to the course, situated on an island in the Thames.

The new mark came when Gordon Richards, a stocky little fellow of 39, rode his 2,750th winner, one more than the total set up by the great Fred Archer back in the 1880's. Scotch Mist was Gordon's mount, and the two-year-old galloped to a neck victory in the five-furlong Cannon Yard Stakes.

The cheering and applauding lasted more than a full minute at the finish and it broke out again as Richards guided his mount through rows of spectators to the unsaddling enclosure.

The one-day strike of the Windsor Bus Employees developed when they refused to run a "pleasure-seekers' service" on the Easter Monday holiday. An odd kickback occurred when some of them, seeking admission to the track, were refused. They were told: "You have talked about carrying workers only; this meeting is for workers only, on a one-day bank holiday, and you don't come under that head."

Some persons traveling by taxi paid the equivalent of $35 for the trip from London, although the normal fare on the meter was around $9. A number of London cabmen were told by police that the reasons for their journey were unsatisfactory and that further investigations would be made.

In a sense, the London-Windsor cab trip was legal because it is just within the regulation limit from the metropolitan boundary. At the same time, however, the government had asked that taxis not be chartered for pleasure trips.

Son of a miner, Richards told the newsmen that "I hope to go on riding for many more years before I begin to think of taking up training or any other career."

A jockey 24 years, Gordon started his racing career when he obtained a job in a stable as an apprentice under the famous Steve Donoghue, now a trainer.

Although Richards exploded a record, riding honors at the one-day meet went to little Tommy Carey who rode five winners on the eight-race card.

KNOCKOUT FOR MURRAY
BALTIMORE (AP)—Bewildering his opponent with dazzling speed and tossing dynamite with both fists, Lee Q. Murray projected himself squarely in the middle of the heavyweight fight picture Monday night with a decisive eight-round knockout of Alf (Big Bay) Brown, Detroit negro.

NAT BUTLER PASSES

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—Nat Butler, 73, famous international bike racer and operator of a cycle track for almost 20 years, collapsed and died in his garden here today.

Butler, born in Nova Scotia, won such major international cycling events as the Cologne Golden Wheel, the Dresden Grossen Preis and the Dusseldorf Purse. At one time he held all of the French cycling records from 16 to 100 kilometers.

Senators Sign Gomez

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, American League mound star, was signed Monday by Washington Senators.

Gomez said he believed his arm is in good shape, despite ineffectiveness last season. He was released recently by Boston Braves.

The veteran signed with the Braves after a brilliant 12-year career with New York Yankees.

Reds, Cubs Disappoint

With the major ball leagues getting ready to resume action tomorrow with their second round of intersectional firing, the question that has everybody puzzled is how long can the other National League clubs continue to trample on the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs.

The Bruins, particularly, have impressed every rival manager as one of the standout teams in the senior circuit. Yet they are deep in the cellar with only nine victories and 19 defeats.

Chicago has been getting generally good pitching and is third in the league in hitting. In fielding it has made fewer errors than the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers and is among the leaders in double plays.

A siege of illness and injuries has cut into the club's general effectiveness, no doubt, but on the basis of the records it is hard to see how the Cubs lost nine straight in the east. They will be joined by Lou Novikoff, their celebrated hold-out, when they open a home stand tomorrow against New York Giants, who are in seventh place.

The Angels tomorrow will engage the Portland Beavers, who probably haven't forgotten that Los Angeles took a seven-game series from them in their own ballparks two weeks ago.

Third-place Oakland will attempt to gain on San Francisco at the expense of Sacramento in a series opening at the Solon's park.

San Diego opens a seven-game series against Hollywood today.

Armstrong Scores Seven-round Kayo Over Max Shapiro

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—That old master of infighting—Henry Armstrong of Los Angeles—Monday belted out a seven-round technical knockout victory over Max Shapiro of New York.

Armstrong weighed 140½, Shapiro 135.

Before the end came after 1.58 of the seventh round, the little dynamo, former holder of three world championships, had floored Shapiro for two nine counts, once in the sixth and again shortly after the start of the seventh.

Referee Matt Adgie stopped it after Armstrong had landed a savage left cross that made Shapiro spit blood. Armstrong, obviously getting stronger while Shapiro weakened, looked at the referee as if asking "Why go on hitting him?" Adgie didn't hesitate. He waved Shapiro to his corner and raised Armstrong's hand.

The victory was Armstrong's 19th in 22 bouts since he came out of retirement a year ago.

Bob Montgomery Philadelphia's new lightweight champion who may fight Armstrong next, watched from the ringside.

A crowd of 8,842 contributed to a gross gate of $21,614.

C. G. Heisterman Tops Field in Cup Tourney

With a gross score of 81, which his handicap reduced to a net 65, C. G. Heisterman paced the field in the first round of the Charles F. Todd Cup competition at the Victoria Golf Club.

Art Dowell, H. F. Hepburn and W. J. Peers tied for runner-up, each with net scores of 67. Major Wise and A. S. G. Musgrave were next with 68s.

Second 18-hole round will be played Saturday.

Extra-hole Matches In Colwood Tourney

Phillies Attendance Shows Big Increase

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A check of the new Phillies' attendance Monday showed that in 21 games this season they've drawn 169,049 spectators—some 65 per cent as many as the 277,961 the old Phillies attracted in a full season of 74 games last year.

Attendance records have topped right and left, but the significant thing, apparently, is that the new owner Bill Cox is no longer talking about finishing above seventh place—he's got his eye on the pennant.

Musgrave In Smart Stand

Hurls, Bats V.M.D. to Baseball Win

Turning in as smart an exhibition of pitching and hitting seen in the local ball pasture in years, Tommy Musgrave sparked the Victoria Machinery Depot ball club to a 4 to 1 victory over the visiting Bellingham Bells in the second game of their holiday series here Monday. In the afternoon engagement Bellingham romped to a 17 to 3 win over Victoria Army.

With his fast ball showing plenty of zip, Musgrave had the Bellingham hitters in his pocket all night. The big right-hander gave up three lone hits and struck out nine. In addition Tommy got good support from him teammates. Just to make it a real Musgrave-evening Tommy lifted the ball over the centre field fence for a two-run homer in the second inning.

Bob Luckitt, chunky little left-hander, was on the mound for Bellingham. The portside showed plenty of stuff, but the V.M.D. boys got to him for eight hits and three errors didn't help his cause any. He struck out one.

Bellingham hit the scoring column first with a lone run in the top half of the second. Andy Padovan, veteran Bellingham catcher, lined a hard drive into deep left field that Maurice Duffy got his hands on but couldn't hold. It went for two bases. Luckitt drove him home with a stinging single over third base.

GET THREE RUNS
V.M.D. came back with three runs in their half of the inning. Chuck Restell took one on the arm for passage to first. On the second pitch to Al Eubrey, Restell stole second and scored when the former singled into left field and outfielder Van Sinderin made a wild heave to the plate. Musgrave strolled to the plate and lifted the ball out of the lot. The pitcher got a tremendous hand from the big crowd.

Final V.M.D. run came in the fourth. Restell singled to right field, stole second and scored on an error by shortstop Falter.

Pair of smart plays in the field gave the fans added thrills. With V.M.D. runners on first and second and one away, second sacker LaBaron leaped high into the air to spear Harney's line drive off the top of the grass and rob him of a base knock.

Restell had a perfect night at the plate, two for two, to pace V.M.D. hitters.

ONESIDED WIN
With the Army helping them along with five errors Bellingham had a soft touch in the afternoon. Of the 17 runs scored by the visitors, only eight were of the earned variety.

Only pleasing feature of the game was the heavy hitting show put on by the Bells and the hurling of tall Clarry Marshall for the visiting club. Marshall gave up only four hits while he fanned 13.

Andy Padovan and Marshall both clouted the ball out of the lot to account for five runs between them. Van Sinderin, left fielder, had a perfect afternoon with the bat, three for three, and punched out a two-run triple in the fifth.

Stan Curry and Bill Prior handled the pitching duties for the Army, with the latter taking over in the second.

Bellingham pulled off two double plays during the afternoon.

Short scores follow:
R H E
Bellingham — 17 10 1
Army — 3 4 5
Batteries — Marshall and Padovan; Curry, Prior and Milliken and Reigner.
Bellingham — 1 3 3
V.M.D. — 4 8 1
Batteries — Luckitt and Padovan; Musgrave and Harney.

Social Credit Chief Mourned

Premier W. Aberhart
Of Alberta Passes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier William Aberhart of Alberta, head of the world's first Social Credit government, died in hospital here Sunday, after a week's illness.

The 64-year-old school teacher and Bible-class leader, who claimed he didn't like politics, but entered the political arena to bring a new kind of government to the people, entered hospital April 18, when he became seriously ill of a liver ailment while on vacation.

Funeral services will be held at Canadian Memorial Church Wednesday, but the usual formalities of state will be dispensed with, and the services will be semiprivate, at the request of Mrs. Aberhart.

Cabinet ministers and members of the Alberta Legislative Assembly are expected here Wednesday when final funeral arrangements will be made.

Messages of condolence have been received by his family from all parts of Canada, and Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary and acting premier, said in a statement that the Premier's death "has caused a sense of irreparable loss in the hearts and minds of his thousands of friends throughout the entire Dominion."

Born Dec. 30, 1878, on a farm near Kippen, Ont., Mr. Aberhart first came into political and economic prominence in August, 1935, when he took over the premiership of Alberta as head of the party.

Champion of social credit ideas originally devised by Maj. C. H. Douglas, a Scottish engineer, Premier Aberhart to his death was adamant in his determination to establish it in Alberta.

ion courts and the Privy Council, which ruled his legislation unconstitutional. Mr. Aberhart never lost faith in his social credit ideas, and continued to strive toward their accomplishment.

He had electrified the voters of depression-ridden Alberta with his promise of monthly dividends of $25 for every man and woman. He said he would implement a new kind of financial economy through circulation of credit, using the national wealth.

As a result, his party won 56 of the 63 seats in the 1935 election. Aberhart was not a candidate himself, but true to a pre-election promise, the tall, portly school teacher, then known chiefly for his religious broadcasts, took over the premiership when a seat was later found for him. He promised social-credit dividends within 18 months. "Social credit is in reality a scientific method of distributing the goods and services which we have in abundance in our province, to the greatest advantage of every one of our citizens," he said, adding that this would be done by the method of basic-dividends, issued monthly, so that every bona fide citizen would be assured of at least food and shelter.

In spite of his setbacks in the courts when he tried to administer his legislation, his government was returned to power in the 1940 provincial election when the Premier, still his fiery self, berated "the 50 big shots," "international finance" and the Dominion government, charging that they were interfering with his plans.

He set up a modified system of social credit in Alberta in 1938, setting up branches of the provincial treasury which acted as provincial banks, accepting the social credit vouchers which his government issued.

The branches operated at a loss and a year later Mr. Aberhart said that through them he hoped to bring about monetary reform within two years. But that was the closest he came to implementing his system in the province.

STARTED PETITION

School teacher and Bible class leader at Calgary, he first became interested in the political theory of social credit 11 years ago. He explained his beliefs to the government and to the people and when the United Farmers of Alberta government made no move to accept his plan, he started a petition.

The petition bore between 75,000 and 80,000 names, calling on the administration to establish social credit in Alberta. The petition reached Premier R. G. Reid and when the government took no action, Mr. Aberhart launched a high-powered political campaign with hand-picked men from among his radio audience and the result was his sweep—56 of the 63 government seats—in the 1935 election.

Mr. Aberhart also held the portfolios of Minister of Education and Attorney-General.

He came west in 1910, establishing in Calgary, where he organized a Bible class. His class grew rapidly until in 1927, the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute, a $65,000 building, was opened with Mr. Aberhart as dean.

He attended school at Seaford, Ont., taught at Wingham, Ont., and later attended business college in Chatham. He specialized in mathematics and commerce at Queen's University after taking his first-class teacher's certificate at Hamilton Normal School and taught in Brantford from 1905 until he moved west.

He married Jessie Platt, daughter of George Platt of Galt, Ont., July 30, 1902.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two daughters, Mrs. Charles MacNutt and Mrs. James Cooper, both of Vancouver. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. William Aberhart, residing in Seaford, Ont., three brothers and a sister. The brothers are Charles and Louis of Seaford and John of Woodstock, Ont. The sister is Mrs. McIsaac of Detroit.

Price Control Guard Against Inflation

"If antagonistic public opinion on price control is allowed to develop, the only result will be inflation," Mrs. Christine White said today at the Y.W.C.A. at the first conference of chairmen of sub-committees of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee, to be held in this province.

Other speakers were L. S. Davis, representative from the housing administration at Ottawa, and P. H. Johnson, local representative for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Mrs. White, from the consumer branch of the W.P.T.B. at Ottawa, and executive assistant to Miss Byrne Hope Sanders, in speaking of public opinion, warned the meeting there is no place in the world today for the uninformed woman. "It is your duty," she said, "to keep your communities informed of the latest regulations set down by the W.P.T.B." She told the liaison officers present that the breaking of regulations and overcharging for goods must be reported to the W.P.T.B., as any other crime would be reported to the police.

Housing survey campaign, to be conducted in Victoria through the use of a circular letter, was explained by Mr. Davis.

Mr. Johnson spoke on the local angle of price control.

Representative of the small fruit farmers asked if the surplus fruit would be allowed to waste owing to the sugar ration of 10 pounds per person. Mrs. White replied that special arrangements were being made in that respect for commercial fruit growers.

"A sampling check will be made on the amount used," Mrs. White answered to the question of whether all persons would use their allotment of sugar.

Mrs. Paul Smith, chairman of the Regional Advisory Committee, presided.

New Developments Of Justice Murder May Prove Fruitful

Denying rumors that the Molly Justice murder had been solved, Saanich Police Chief Josiah Bull said today police were working on a new angle, but said detectives had hardly got to the point where they would consider the results "encouraging."

"We're getting something all the time now. I only hope it will work out," the police chief said. He said city detectives and officers of the R.C.M.P. and B.C. Police were in contact with the Saanich police over the developments.

Meanwhile the murder last Jan. 18 on the C.N.R. right-of-way near her home at 861 Brett Avenue, has attracted national attention with the publication last week in a murder-mystery magazine of a featured article entitled "The Dimout Death of Molly Justice or Victoria's Glove Mystery."

Some reported details of the killing hitherto unpublished, are included in the five-page magazine account of the crime and the police investigations which have followed.

In a vivid description of the incident on the C.N.R. right-of-way the night of Jan. 18, the author tells how "with a wild 'ring cry, Molly Justice tried to turn and flee," and how "in the shadows an upraised arm with a wicked steel blade clenched in a gloved fist flashed for a moment and swung downward. Again and again, with the terrible finality of a guillotine, the blade plunged downward..."

U.S. Asks Court Strip A.P. of Power To Choose Members

NEW YORK (AP)—In anti-trust procedure without precedent, the United States government today asked the federal court here for summary judgment against the Associated Press—without the taking of testimony by witnesses in open court trial.

The motion was made in a civil suit pending before a special three-judge court. It seeks an injunction which would require the Associated Press to furnish its news and picture services to any newspaper willing to bear its proportionate share of the cost of gathering news.

The government's motion asked, as one of the nine decisions sought from the court, that the court cancel the existing agreement between the AP and the Canadian Press, and enjoin the AP from entering into any agreement with the Canadian Press or any other press association under which the AP would agree "not to deliver its news reports to any other association, newspaper or individual in any particular territory area or region."

Counsel for the A.P. declined to comment on the government's latest move, but it was understood the government's contention that there were no material facts which remained uncontroverted would be vigorously challenged by the A.P.

NEED MONTH

It was also understood that it probably 30 days would be required to prepare and file answering affidavits in support of the A.P.'s position.

Twenty-five affidavits setting out information concerning the operations of the A.P. and its competitors were filed in support of the motion.

The government suit, charging that the A.P. is a monopoly, was filed in Federal District Court here last Aug. 28.

Promoted

LT.-COL. G. PAULIN

Appointed brigade major of the V. and E. Fortress in 1939, Maj. George Paulin has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and will leave shortly to take up another appointment in B.C.

A native son of Victoria, long prominent in business and military life of the city, Lt.-Col. Paulin lives with his wife at 1183 Oliver. He is a nephew of F. A. Pauline, former Agent General for B.C. in London.

Enlisting in the 5th Brigade, R.C.A., in the first Great War, he went overseas with that unit as a trumpeter and at the conclusion of hostilities was promoted to commissioned rank. He has served continuously since that time, having experience in all branches of the artillery. At the outbreak of war he was in command of the 2nd A.A. Battery.

Well known in athletic circles, he was an active member of the James Bay Rowing Club and was secretary of the Victoria Rugby Union.

Butchers Report No Rush for Meat

With two more days left until meat rationing, there was no appreciable rush of customers at the meat counters, a survey of stores and meat markets revealed today. Proprietors and meat clerks said there seemed to be little panic buying, though trade was rather heavy today, owing, it was considered, to the long holiday week-end.

There were, however, many inquiries for bacon, consumers, apparently, wanting to lay by a small store of the less perishable meat products before rationing goes into effect, but little encouragement resulted from their inquiries, as most of the meat counters were cleaned out of bacon and ham products before the week-end, and "No bacon today" signs were the general rule.

At the office of the Central Ration Board, where all arrangements for the rationing of meat have been completed, there were no evidences of public concern. Officials stated there seems to be general understanding of the way meat rationing will operate, at least they said they had not been receiving the usual inquiries, indicating a bewildered public.

Officials also pointed out that it is not necessary for those holding temporary servicemen's cards to bring them into the Central Ration Administration in Victoria for the purpose of having the meat coupons straightened out.

This can be done, they said, by taking the cards to the nearest local ration board. Such boards are located at the City Hall for Victoria, at the Royal Oak Community Hall for residents of Saanich, and at the Esquimalt Municipal Hall for residents of that territory.

COX, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cox, 1131 Burdett Avenue, who has received his Master of Arts degree with first class honors at the University of British Columbia where he majored in chemistry and took physics as a minor. He chose as his thesis the subject of "War Research." Mr. Cox has lived in Victoria since early childhood and is a graduate of Victoria High School and Victoria College. In his senior year at the university he was awarded a scholarship.

Circulars to Check Available Homes For War Workers

To inaugurate a campaign to get more housing accommodation for essential war workers or their families in Victoria, L. S. Davis, executive assistant to the Real Property Administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa, arrived in Victoria today and will be here for several days.

While he is in the city Mr. Davis will supervise the distribution of pamphlets to all the householders in Victoria in an endeavor to determine whether or not there is any more accommodation available in this city.

Mr. Davis, formerly assistant manager of the mortgage division of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, lived in British Columbia for four years before being commandeered by the Dominion government for his present job.

"We feel certain that there is more accommodation in this city if only we could get people to realize the extreme urgency of the situation," said Mr. Davis.

His campaign, he said, would be divided into three phases, to educate everyone in Victoria area as to the reality of the housing situation that exists; to appeal for more space; and third, to obtain a volume of statistics that will enable housing authorities, such as the Housing Registry under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse, also Dominion government authorities at Ottawa, to have a clearer picture of the situation in their dealings with the housing problem.

Mr. Davis said: "It is not my job to recommend the construction of more houses here. It is my task to see that every existing room, suite, apartment or dwelling is made fullest use of during the existing acute housing conditions."

He showed copies of pamphlets that will be distributed soon, possibly Thursday or Friday of this week, to every householder in the city or area affected, which may include Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt, though the decision as to the exact area has not yet been reached.

The pamphlets, which have been made as simple as possible, contain columns in which the householder is to list the number of rooms in his dwelling, the number residing in household, and the relationship of each, if any; also space to state whether or not the householder could share the dwelling with anyone else, and if so, what accommodation could be made available.

When completed, the forms are simply to be folded in accordance with directions and returned, requiring no stamp.

Mr. Davis pointed out that it was compulsory for householders to fill in the form and return it as instructed. Penalties are provided for failure to do so.

Mr. Davis has already conducted about a dozen surveys in other cities across the Dominion and has recently been at work in New Westminster and Vancouver.

He said that as a result of the survey in Vancouver, concluded around April 14 and 15, accommodation was found for 3,000 people, distributed among 1,800 homes whose occupants expressed willingness to take in essential war workers or their families.

Soviet Russia Needs More Food, Conference Told

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Soviet Russia needs more food to win the war and is not now getting enough through lend-lease from the United States, Chairman A. D. Krutikov of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations Food Conference here, said at a meeting with the press.

He pointed out that lend-lease naturally was not on the agenda of the Food Conference, but concerned relations between Russia and the United States.

However, in a formal statement he stressed the urgency of his country's food requirements not only during the war but for some time afterward.

Restoration of Russian agriculture will require much time, and adequate financing, and consequently Russia "will require aid from the Allies and friendly nations."

"Naturally," he added, "the Soviet will need long-term credits."

Asked if he favored the British delegation's proposal for creation of a postwar international food bank, or system of buffer stocks to stabilize prices and supplies, Krutikov replied:

"Yes, because that includes measures to prevent inflation of prices."

MAY MOVE MILLIONS

Millions of people may have to be moved in order to make this a better-fed world, the United States delegation to the Food Conference suggested.

What points to such population adjustments, it asserted, is the fact that "the areas of the world in which food is produced by a rather highly-developed technology are limited chiefly to those within the temperate zones, and they include only one-fifth of the world's population."

Miss Beatrice Grant Dies on Mainland

Miss Grant had been a resident of Victoria for many years and was a well-known member of the Overseas League.

Army May Relieve Fraser Flood Danger

Danger of floods in the Fraser Valley is greater than it has been in recent years and calls for an emergency appeal to military forces to help overcome the labor scarcity threatening protective work, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, said today.

Bruce Dixon, dyking commissioner, and W. L. Carrothers, chief engineer of the Public Works Department, have been instructed to contact military establishments in Sardis and New Westminster to determine if men will be available from the forces to carry out emergency work for which civilian labor is not available. At least 80 are needed for patrol work.

Optimism Shown At Revelstoke

Optimism was voiced today by acting Premier R. L. Maitland, K.C., over the outlook for the Revelstoke by-election. Back from a speaking engagement there with Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, the acting premier voiced opinion the coalition candidate, J. McKinnon, should be successful.

"It's a dangerous thing to forecast," said Mr. Maitland, "but the attendance at the meeting there and the number of volunteer workers indicated the healthiest campaign I've seen in a long time. It was the first appearance of Mr. McKinnon and he made an excellent impression. The coalition should have an easy victory, in my opinion."

Andy Hardy Goes to College

The Hardy Family gets together again to send Mickey Rooney off to college in "Andy Hardy's Double Life," now showing at the Atlas Theatre. And Mickey gets into comical complications galore before he's more or less safely on the train delighted to see that a pretty co-ed from the same college is aboard.

The story deals with three dilemmas for Andy Hardy before his departure for college. He sells his jalopy to a pal, who damages a greenhouse with it, and Andy is held responsible as the owner because the car is not paid for completely.

Where to Go Tonight

(As Advertised)
ATLAS—"Andy Hardy's Double Life."
CADET—Geo. Raft and Pat O'Brien in "Broadway."
CAPITOL—"Keeper of the Flame," starring Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn.
DOMINION—George Formby in "No Limit."
OAK BAY—"The Great Waltz," with Luise Rainer.
PLAZA—"Belita in 'Silver Skates'."
RIO—"20 Mule Team," starring Wallace Beery.
YORK—Frederic March and Martha Scott in "One Foot in Heaven."

YORK THEATRE

Entertainment in every sense of the word is what York Theatre patrons will find today when they see the initial showing of "Warner Bros." latest film, "One Foot in Heaven." It tells the story of a parson and his family. Typical, in that they laugh at the same things, share the same joys and sorrows, and have the same problems as any family. It is a quaint, nostalgic tale, containing much warm humor. It opens in those gay days just after the turn of the century, and continues through the riotous days after the Armistice of World War I.

"One Foot in Heaven" has a cast featuring Fredric March and Martha Scott in the starring roles, with Beulah Bondi, Gene Lockhart, Elisabeth Fraser, Harry Davenport, Laura Hope Crews, Moroni Olsen and Frankie Thomas in supporting parts.

RIO THEATRE

Death Valley underwent its first "screen test" when director Richard Thorpe, cameraman Clyde de Vinna, unit manager Chasles Hunt and art director Malcolm Brown arrived at Furnace Creek Inn to set up headquarters for experimental camera work, before calling Wallace Beery, Leo Carrillo and other players to location for "20 Mule Team," now at the Rio Theatre. To find the most photogenic parts of the desert area for this saga of the old borax teams and the muleskinners who drove them, Thorpe and his crew made a three-day tour and shot test film through newly-developed filters.

CADET THEATRE

Sentimentalists will be treated to a nostalgic musical feast in Universal's "Broadway," the thrilling, moving melodrama of New York in the roving days of "the roaring 20's," which is now at the Cadet Theatre with George Raft and Pat O'Brien co-starring and heading a brilliant film cast. Not a musical feature in the accepted sense, "Broadway" nevertheless strikes a sentimentally responsive chord by including in its score and specialties, more than a dozen musical numbers which have endured and endeared themselves with the public through the years.

Washing the car in winter months is a protective measure, as well as a real economy, for it eliminates a considerable amount of rust and corrosion caused by the salt and chemicals sprinkled on icy streets to make driving safer.

Formby Picture Held at Dominion

At last something has been done to put a beautiful British holiday island on the talking screen. Every cinemagoer whose interest has ever alternated between Douglas Fairbanks and Douglas, I.O.M., will be glad to know that the latter is at last "starring" in a British picture—"No Limit!" the A.B.F.D. comedy which is being held over at the Dominion Theatre.

The story for the film was written by Walter Greenwood, author of "Love on the Dole," and he has given both George Formby and Florence Desmond parts which suit them perfectly in every detail.

Capitol Stars Tracy, Hepburn

Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn figure in a drama of newspaperdom for the second time in "Keeper of the Flame," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's graphic adaptation of I. A. R. Wylie's best-selling novel, which is now being shown at the Capitol Theatre. Unlike "Woman of the Year," which was comedy, however, the new picture is an intensely dramatic one dealing with today's wartime conditions. Tracy, as a newspaperman, investigating the death of a noted leader, falls in love with his widow, played by Miss Hepburn, and a dramatic situation eventuates when his investigations turn the finger of suspicion on her.

PLAZA THEATRE

The motion picture has never presented a more dazzling or entertaining ice spectacle than "Silver Skates," the Monogram extravaganza which opens an engagement at the Plaza Theatre. Here is a picture which literally "has everything." Its bright particular skating star is Belita, English-born girl who exhibits a grace and a high quality of skill such as the screen has never shown before. Featured with her are Kenny Baker, noted radio singer, and the raven-haired film beauty, Patricia Morrison. These three form the romantic triangle in a gay story which eventually finds Baker engaged to both girls, simply because of his anxiety to save an unfortunate situation.

OAK BAY THEATRE

A 100-piece orchestra, composed of the pick of symphony musicians, plays Strauss' beloved compositions in "The Great Waltz," now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre. The numbers include "Artist's Life," "Tales of the Vienna Woods," "Revolutionary March," "The Blue Danube," and others.

SPENCER TRACY and Katharine Hepburn are starring in "Keeper of the Flame," now at the Capitol.

Pioneer Fur Trader, C. Harding, Buried

LETTER PERFECT

MARGARET enjoys acting too much to need help from the prompter in the wings. Enjoys Kellogg's Corn Flakes after rehearsals, too. "They're my favourite anytime," she says. Favourite in the majority of Canadian homes, Kellogg's are ready in 30 seconds, leave no pots and pans to wash... save time, fuel, work! Economical, too! Get some tomorrow. Two convenient sizes. Made in London, Canada.

William Francis Harding, H.E.I. C.S., was one of the last links with the Hudson's Bay Company's pioneer fur-trading in the north of Canada. He came here in 1890 after an education in Darjeeling, India, and Dulwich College, London, England, where he went with his family. A keen sportsman, he played professional cricket at Paris, Ontario, but left to farm near Brandon. Joining the H.B.C. in 1896 as an apprentice clerk, he worked his way up at various posts on the Mackenzie River, at Aklavik, Fort Simpson, Fort Resolution and many others until he was made district manager of the Western Arctic. Transferred in 1919 to York Factory, Nelson River district, he remained as district manager for 12 years. There he was the first police magistrate of the Province of Manitoba. He was in charge of nearly 40 posts in his 36 years of service.

At Winnipeg in 1924, he married Augusta Margaret Dobson, of London, England, and five years later was made factor by Governor Charles V. Sale. Soon after, he retired to Victoria. In the summer of 1940, Mr. Harding, with his friend, the late J. Herbert Curle, world-famous mining engineer and author, made a trip up the Mackenzie renewing old acquaintances and seeing familiar places he knew when he served there.

Mr. Harding was a member of the Pacific Club and the Island Philatelic Society. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Dorothy and Elizabeth.

NEXT: How do birds change the color of their plumage?

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a mother just 35 years of age. I can't get a defence job so that I can care for my little brood, because I am heavy set. I have a fairly good education, a jolly disposition, am not bad-looking, and am an industrious worker. Why are we women who are a little overweight always cast aside in favor of the slim ones. MRS. S.

MEN PREFER TO HIRE SLIM WOMEN

Answer: Perhaps it is because men do the hiring of employees and they all seem to be committed to the stringbean silhouette. Apparently nobody loves a fat woman, not even in a defence plant, though without doubt she would be a valuable asset to the personnel of any such, seeing as how she would be easier to get along with than her scrawny, nervous sisters and less given to absenteeism while she frequented beauty parlors.

Fat women are proverbially

good-natured and easy-going, or else they would not be fat, for the only genuine reducer is a worrying disposition. Stout ladies nearly always have a sense of humor and a laugh that is hung on a half-trigger, so they are cheerful to have about. They like good food and plenty of it and are handy with the pots and pans. So why, having all of these nice, comfortable human attributes, they are not first choice in good jobs as well as marriage, is a mystery.

But they aren't. No matter what beauties of mind and soul they have, men pass them up for the skinnies. Their dates are few and far between. They are wallflowers at dances. They are never hired for models, except in stylish stouts. And all because men are committed to the theory that the living skeleton is the ideal in feminine pulchritude. The only place in art where the angle is considered more beautiful than the curve appears to be in the feminine form.

flower gardens. Often it is imprinted on cups, saucers and plates sold on the island.

Along with the emblem, a motto often appears. The motto is, "Whichever way you throw me, I shall fall on my feet." The legs in the emblem are pictured as if covered with armor, and there is a spur on each heel.

THREE LEGS OF MAN - The Island's strange ancient EMBLEM

No one knows when the first people reached the Isle of Man. It was inhabited before Julius Caesar and his Roman soldiers invaded Britain 2,000 years ago.

Near the centre of the island are people of a somewhat strange type. They are short, dark and long-headed, and it is possible that they are descended from Stone Age tribes of ages ago.

Remains prove that early people on the island used stone tools and weapons. Flint knives and the heads of polished stone axes have been found under the ground at several spots.

The island has a queer emblem known as the "Three Legs of Man." It is placed on flags, and is worked out as a design in Later came Viking sea raiders, who liked the Isle of Man so well that many of them settled there. The Vikings prayed to the sun-god, Odin, and it may be that they brought in the emblem of the Three Legs of Man.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

'Great Wall' of China Has Rival

Built originally to protect the Chinese from barbarian hordes, the "Great Wall" of China stretches for 1,400 miles over mountain, valley and river. Reading about this marvel of the ages, which has withstood the ravages of time for 2,100 years, your J-M Reporter was reminded of a modern type of wall which guards thousands of homes from fire, weather and wear. It's a Johns-Manville product—Cedargrain Asbestos Siding Shingles and today it answers a real wartime need. You see, many people are faced with the problem of fixing up the exterior walls of their homes—walls that are deteriorating and need essential repairs. At little cost, J-M Cedargrain can be applied right over the old walls and effect a magical transformation in the appearance of any home. Because they are made of asbestos they are fireproof, and give lasting protection and beauty. For free literature on Johns-Manville Cedargrain, see your J-M dealer, V.I. Hardwood Floor Company, 707 Johnson Street, C-7314.

No Action Yet On Communism

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister St. Laurent, answering an inquiry in the House of Commons Monday, said the government had not had time to consider whether the announcement of dissolution of the Third Internationale would result in giving the Communist Party in Canada legal status.

It might be unnecessary to give further consideration to amending the Defence of Canada Regulations in so far as they applied to the Communist Party when it formed part of the Communist International.

"If that organization now has been dissolved and the group in Canada which formed part of it follows the recommendation which the newspapers have reported as having been made by the Comintern, there would no longer be any purpose in referring to the matter," said the minister.

"It would be an organization that had disappeared, and it would be of no interest to anyone whether or not it remained there. If any other party or group should be made up of men who formerly belonged to that organization, it would depend upon the attitude they adopted as to whether or not any action should be taken."

Woman Walks 2 Miles With Arm Shattered

FORT VERMILION, Alta. (CP)—Mrs. Michel Lizotte, 70, is recovering after walking two miles alone with her right forearm almost severed following accidental discharge of a shotgun at her home near here. During her trek to seek medical aid, it is believed the woman collapsed several times, but struggled on. A doctor amputated the arm and reported Mrs. Lizotte was progressing favorably.

A card party will be held at St. Alban's Hall, Wednesday, at 8.

Freedom's Fires Must Be Fed Our COAL!

CANADIANS must dig and deliver coal that we may sail convoys, power vital war plants, keep our railroads rolling, preserve the nation's health!

The coal mining industry—miners and management alike—have done wonders to provide coal, but they need help. More workers must be provided, or we falter—possibly fail—in this grim hour. Nature has been generous but we must help ourselves. Our mines are rich, but undermanned.

By Proclamation, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has declared that labour supply for coal mines ranks as a national emergency. Further, in order to provide manpower for coal, the Governor in Council has issued an Order in Council aimed at swelling the flow of coal from mine to firepot.

This Order is of vital interest to everyone in Canada. Every Canadian should read and study its provisions; to see whether it demands any action on his part:

- 1 EVERY EMPLOYER, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, must advise his employees of these Regulations, and he must assist in discovering whether any of his employees have had previous experience as coal mine workers.
- 2 EVERY EMPLOYEE, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, who has had previous experience as a coal mine worker, must report that fact to his employer not later than Tuesday, May 25th, 1943.
- 3 A "COAL MINE WORKER" FOR THESE PURPOSES is anyone who, since January 1st, 1935, has worked under provincial certificate or license in or around a coal mine, or who, since the same date, has been employed for a total of at least 24 months in the production of coal (except at office work).
- 4 EVERY EMPLOYER, NOT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, must report in writing to a Selective Service Officer not later than Tuesday, June 1st, 1943, full details on any of his employees who are ex-coal mine workers.
- 5 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS ARE AUTHORIZED to require ex-coal mine workers to report for interview and to accept work at a coal mine.
- 6 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS MAY REQUIRE any man in any employment, if subject to Mobilization Regulations but rejected for Military Training, and certain others excused from Military Training, to accept employment at a coal mine.
- 7 NO COAL MINE OPERATOR may terminate the services of any coal mine worker without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.
- 8 NO COAL MINE WORKER may leave employment at a coal mine without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.
- 9 EVERY EX-COAL MINE WORKER, returning to the industry under these Regulations, will be paid wages at the established rate for the job at which he is placed; and the Government will pay wages of 40 cents an hour, 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week, to any ex-coal mine worker required to leave his present employment under these provisions, but not placed immediately at coal mining.
- 10 A BOARD ALLOWANCE of not more than $7.50 a week may be paid an ex-coal mine worker now returning to a coal mine, if required to live away from the residence of his dependents.
- 11 PRESENT AND FUTURE COAL MINE WORKERS will be granted postponement from Military Training to February 1st, 1944, by virtue of their occupation; and no coal mine worker will be accepted for voluntary enlistment in the Armed Forces of Canada, prior to February 1st, 1944, except under permit to enlist from a Selective Service Officer.
- 12 NO EMPLOYER IN CANADA, EXCEPT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, may solicit for employment or hire any ex-coal mine worker.
- 13 REGARDLESS OF ANY DOMINION OR PROVINCIAL LAW, male persons at least 16 years old may be employed as coal mine workers, and female persons at least 18 years old may be employed as surface coal mine workers.
- 14 WAR EMERGENCY TRAINING CLASSES will be available for training men as coal mine workers.

Such is the substance of the new regulations. Full details may be had at any Employment and Selective Service Office. If these provisions require action on your part, you are urged in the national interest to act immediately. Severe penalties are provided for non-compliance, but the Government relies on the co-operation of the citizens of Canada to make prosecution unnecessary by prompt action as required. This is a grave emergency. Assist if you can.
